LIVES ARE LOST IN 2 SOUTHEAST MISSOURI STORMS

Four Known Dead at Mineral Point; Ten Reported to Have Been Killed Further South.

GALES 60 MILES APART

Four Counties Beyond Cape Girardeau Suffer; Heavy Damage in Other Sections.

Tornadoes in two sections of Southeast Missouri yesterday afternoon caused several deaths, injured many persons and inflicted great property damage.

One of the two series of windstorms swept across Dent, Crawford, Iron, Washington and St. Francois counties, covering a range of more than 75 miles, and being most destructive at Mineral Point, Washington County, 64 miles southwest of St. Louis. At Mineral Point four persons were killed, more than 40 were injured, and most of the 300 residents were made homeless.

Six More Deaths Reported.
The other storm traversed a path about 60 miles further south, and damaged farm settlements and small towns in Wayne, Bollinger, Stoddard and Scott counties. Meager reports of the damage inflicted in this storm reached Cape Girardeau shortly before noon today.
According to these reports, not fully substantiated, four persons were killed near Zalma, Bollinger County; another fatality occurred at Dongola, Bollinger County; and another at Advance, Stoddard County, and the town of Chaonia, Wayne County; Crowder, Scott County, and Redman, Scott County, were partly demolished, but no definite reports as to loss of life in those places were received.

Dan Plish, a drainage contractor, who arrived in Cape Girardeau at 11 o'clock from Zalma, said he had been informed that C. J. Slaughter, John Morgan, Mr.
Dan Cato and a man named McAllister were killed by the storm near that town.
Plish said those killed were residents of farmhouses near Zalma, except Mc-Allister, who lived at Greenville. He said McAllister was killed by falling beams of a house which was boarding, and that his throat was cut by broken glass.

He was told that Leon Morgan and Dan Cato were seriously injured. He heard a report that several farm tenants of J. W. Wilkinson, a large land owner, were killed or injured.

W. F. Boyce, his wife and five children, living on the banks of the Castor river, north of Zalma, were missing after their home was blown away. Plish was informed, and it was believed the house might have been blown into the river and the occupants drowned.

At Dongola, Bollinger County, it was reported that a Mrs. Killian was killed in the wreck of a farmhouse, and that Mrs. George Bidwell was seriously hurt.

Damage in Scott County, according to a report from another source, 20 houses were blown down, but no one was seriously injured. At Redman, Scott County, seven houses were demolished.

At Advance, Stoddard County, the death of a boy, Sin Harris, was reported. At this place, it was reported, large hailstones fell and all the windows in town were broken.

At the west end of the Thebes bridge, also reported a violent hailstorm and stores and houses were flooded.

Residents of Jackson, 12 miles west of Cape Girardeau, said they saw the storm pass over the town at a considerable height.

The dead at Mineral Point are: Thos.
Le Master of Potosi, conductor on Potosi branch Iron Mountain, Gus Bone, black signal man; Frank Le Chance, mill employee; Otis Goff, 4-year-old son of Frank Goff.

Salem, county seat of Dent County, on a branch of the Potosi Railroad, is the farthest west of the places which reported damage. The storm went through the east edge of Salem. Steel-ville, Crawford County, 31 miles northeast of Salem, on the same branch, suffered damage to houses, but no one is known to have been injured. At Silgo, Dent County, one woman was reported to have been injured by a falling timber.

Damage Reported Elsewhere.
Grantville, Iron County; Palmer and Missionary Ridge, Washington County, were places from which injuries an-property damage were reported. Telephone wires to those places were down this morning, and a report of deaths at Missionary Ridge and Palmer was not substantiated.

The wind, from the southwest, struck Mineral Point at 1:30 p. m. Seven stores, the Catholic church, the large tile mill,
the Iron Mountain depot and tank and 40 homes were demolished. The schoolhouse escaped damage.

The two railroad employees who were killed, Conductor Le Master and Gus Bone, were seriously injured. The latter two were sent this morning to the Missouri Pacific Hospital in St.
Louis. John Bone was still unconscious.

ST. LOUIS AMBULANCE UNIT REACHES FRANCE; ALL WELL

First Organization From This City to Arrive There; Hospital Part Being in England.

Prof. John Livingstone Lowes of Washington University, who organized the St. Louis Unit of the American Field Ambulance Service, today received a cablegram that the unit had arrived in France and that all of its members were well.

This indicates that the Ambulance Unit is the first St. Louis organization to reach France, as a cable message, published in the Post-Dispatch, told of the St. Louis Hospital Unit attending patriotic services in St. Paul's Cathedral, London, yesterday.

The Ambulance Unit, consisting of 33 men, departed from St. Louis May 16 and sailed from New York May 19, the same day on which the St. Louis Band Hospital Unit embarked.

Some of the well known young St.
Louisans in the Ambulance Unit are:
Marion L. J. Lambert, Sidney T. Bixby, William C. Stripling Jr. and Harry
A. Blackwell.

14 POLICE WITNESSES CALLED BY GRAND JURY

Will Be Asked If Relief Executive Committee, as a Whole, Knew of Salary Increase Fund.

Capt. George McNamee, Lieut. James Lavin, Sergt. David Fields and 11 patrolmen who acted with them as members of the Executive Committee of the Police Relief Association, but were not members of the salary subcommittee were summoned as witnesses before the grand jury today in the police salary increase fund investigation.

These policemen are to be questioned as to whether the Executive Committee as a whole knew anything of the collection of a fund to pay for the passage of the bill.

The present grand jury's term will expire Saturday, when it will make its final report. At this time there is no indication that there will be further indications in connection with the salary fund.

Circuit Attorney McDaniel, when his attention was called today by the Post-Dispatch's story yesterday of political influences at work to stop the investigation, said that no politician could influence him, and that it was his determination to present to the grand jury all the evidence he could obtain of the use or attempted use of money to obtain the passage of the bill.

WHEAT NORMAL IN OKLAHOMA; PUT AT 25,000,000 BUSHELS

OKLAHOMA CITY, Ok., May 31.—The harvest of Oklahoma's wheat crop began yesterday in Carter County, in the extreme south-central portion of the State.
Binders started on a 500-acre field, which, it is estimated, will yield 20 bushels to the acre.

Oklahoma's wheat crop this year will run between 25,000,000 and 30,000,000 bushels, practically a normal crop, according to the State Department of Agriculture.

TOPEKA, Kan., May 31.—Kansas will need 5000 and not more than 8000 harvest hands this year to take care of the wheat harvest. It is stated by C. H.
Danner, in charge of the State Production Bureau.

FIVE MEN FLY FROM LONDON TO ROME IN BRITISH BIPLANE

ROME, May 31.—A British biplane with five persons on board arrived here yesterday direct from London, having stopped only at Paris, Turin and Pisa on the way.

The aviators on the arrival here were given an enthusiastic reception.

FRANCE NO PLACE FOR SLACKERS

PARIS, May 31.—Paul Painleve, Minister of War, today submitted to the President Poincaré at the Cabinet meeting yesterday a bill requiring that subjects or citizens of countries allied with France and of such age that they would be liable to military service in their native countries, fulfill their military obligation. The bill, which follows the policy adopted in England, will be introduced in the Chamber of Deputies shortly.

SENATE COMMITTEE PUTS TAX OF 2 CENTS A POUND ON COFFEE

WASHINGTON, May 31.—The Senate Finance Committee today decided to provide in the war tax bill to raise $5, 000,000 by consumption taxes of 2 cents a pound on coffee, 5 cents on tea, 4 cents on sugar and 3 cents on cocoa. Substitutes for tea and coffee also will be taxed.

Another important change agreed upon was the elimination of the present tax of 12 1/2 per cent on war munitions, now raising $25,000,000.

14-MONTHS-OLD SON OF MISSOURI BANKER KIDNAPED

Child Taken When J. H. Keet and Wife of Springfield Are at Dance.

$5000 REWARD OFFERED

Parent Gets Letter Purporting to Give Information, but Keeps Contents Secret.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
SPRINGFIELD, Mo., May 31.—An all-night search at noon today had failed to furnish the police with any clue to the person who last night kidnaped Lloyd, the 14-months-old son of J. H.
Keet, formerly vice president of the Holland Banking Co. of this city and manager of the Keet estate.

Keet admitted this morning that he had received a letter purporting to come from persons who knew something of the child's disappearance, but refused to give any information about the letter or its contents. The child was stolen from his bed between 10 o'clock and midnight last night. The parents were attending a dance at the time at the Country Club and returned at midnight to find the child gone.

A raised window and raised screen indicated that the child had been taken from the window. A maid and a 3-year-old son slept in a room which was separated from the bedroom by the bathroom.

Bloodhounds brought from Police City took the trail to the main street near the home, but it was lost there.

An automobile is supposed to have been used by the kidnapers in effecting their escape.

Citizens this morning volunteered a searching party to aid in a wide search. A reward of $5000 was offered by Keet for the recovery of the child or information which will assist in its discovery.

More than a 1000 worth of jewelry was in the room from which the child was taken. Although in plain view, it was not touched.

The police of St. Louis were asked today by the Springfield, Mo., authorities to watch all trains leaving from the southwest for the kidnaped child. A similar request was made of the police throughout Missouri.

ORDERS TAKEN BY AMERICANS AT LYONS FAIR TOTAL $42,000,000

Business for Several Countries Is Mostly in Machines, Engines, Machine Tools and Food Products.

LYONS, May 31.—Forty-two million dollars' worth of orders were taken by American houses during the second Lyons fair, which recently closed. The buyers were from France, Switzerland, Spain, Holland, Portugal and the Scandinavian countries. The business was mostly in machine, engines, machine tools and food products.

The total of the transactions registered during the fair was about $80,000, 000, so the share of the United States was a little more than half. There were about three times the number of exhibitors who were at the first fair.

French houses did a large business in articles in which the Germans had a practical monopoly before the war, such as laboratory glassware, optical goods, drug specialties, synthetic perfumes and light hardware.

PRINCE OF UDINE ADDRESSES SENATE ON AIMS OF ITALY

Declares His Country Entered War to Secure Herself Against New Aggressions.

SHIPPING GREAT PROBLEM

Says Germany Will Be Defeated Through United Efforts of Allies.

WASHINGTON, May 31.—The Prince of Udine, head of the Italian Mission, delivered in the Senate Chamber today a message from King Victor Emmanuel to the American people. Resplendently garbed in uniforms of gold and blue, with green shoulder sashes, the members of the mission were enthusiastically received.

The union of effort and purpose of Italy and the United States was emphasized by the Prince, who said:
"Nearly three years have elapsed since Europe, without any justifying motive, perhaps without any motive at all, beyond the will of a small military oligarchy, was driven into the greatest conflict which human history records.
Little nations, which were entirely guil-less and which, within their small territory contained masterpieces of art and treasures of industry have been barbar-ically sacrificed. In the conquered countries, personal slavery has returned as in the worst periods of medieval invasion."

In the enemy's camp, science has perhaps sought to justify all these excesses.
Will human conscience never be able to justify them? Your wars have been fought for independence and for liberty.
In your wars and in ours, an ideal light has guided us and our efforts were all directed towards a most noble aim.
What ideals did those who have brought so much suffering upon the world aim at, outside the dominion of force and the triumph of violence?

"Our enemies are aware that you will bring into the war which is flooding Europe with blood and making the earth barren, the invaluable strength of your men and your wealth. For this most noble adherence to our cause, and for without any thought of conquest or material wealth, we shall always be grateful to you."

"The message of your President, as our sovereign has said, it is worthy, by the nobility of its conceptions and the nobility of its aims, to rank with the most inspiring pages in the history of ancient and modern Rome."

"By proclaiming that right is more precious than peace, that automatic weapons, supported by the force of arms, are a menace to civilization; by proclaiming the right of small nations to live and to prosper, America has now, through the action of her President, acquired a title of merit which history will never forget."

"Italy entered into the war with aims equal to those which you pursue. Her territory had not been invaded, her insecure boundaries had not been violated.
Our people understood that the sacrifice of free nations was the price to be paid for their own sacrifice and that we could not remain indifferent without denying the very reasons of our existence."

"Italy was the safety of her boundaries and her coast, and she wanted to secure herself against new aggres-sions. Italy wants to deliver from long-standing martyrdom populations of Italian race and language that have been persecuted implacably and are, nevertheless, prouder than ever of their Italian nationality. But Italy has not been and never will be an element of discord in Europe and, as she will her own free national existence at the cost of any sacrifice, so she will contribute with all her strength to the free existence and development of other nations."

"By increasing the ruthlessness of submarine warfare and thus rendering naval commerce unsafe and dangerous, our enemies hope to win the war by increasing misery and suffering. They hope that our powerful ally, Great Britain, will lack food, that France will lack fuel, and that Italy will lack especially food and that which is more necessary, coal for this war, for industries and for railways. The problem of shipping is for all of us the greatest problem of the war."

"Predicts Ultimate Victory.
"With our united efforts, we shall vanquish all these difficulties and that which the force of arms, secretly prepared and unexpectedly employed was not able to accomplish, will not be accomplished by disloyal means on land and water. We shall triumph over all these difficulties if we continue our efforts in brotherly agreement, united by the great duty which we have now voluntarily taken upon us for a cause which is superior to all worldly interests and which partakes of an almost divine nobility."

"After delivering his address the Prince and his associates were introduced to Senators."

In a cablegram from the Italian front to the Prince of Udine, King Victor Emmanuel said:

"The military and moral virtues of the Italian people give a brilliant testament to your royal highness and to the mission the opportunity to affirm Italy's unanimous and tenacious will to secure her just and necessary vindication."

"From the mighty co-operation of the great American republic Italy draws renewed strength to prosecute with the force of arms and sacrifice the arduous

SOCIALIST DENIES BERLIN'S BEHIND PEACE MOVEMENT

German Leader Declares Delegates to Stockholm Represent Only Their Party.

OUTLINE OF PROGRAM

Dr. David Discusses Terms Favored by Himself and Associates for Ending War.

COPENHAGEN, May 31.—The program of the German majority Socialist delegates to the Stockholm conference is outlined by the statements of Dr. Eduard David, one of the leading delegates, carries no indorsement by the German Government. Dr. David clearly intimated that the action of the delegation is only binding upon its party and that the envoys have no definite pledges or authorizations from the administration at Berlin.

This hope of the delegates that the German Government ultimately will be found amenable to the majority Socialist program of peace without annexations or indemnities are based partly upon the party's strength and influence in Germany, and partly upon the indefinite statements of that master phrasemaker, Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg, like his declaration that the Government is ready to conclude a peace "which will leave no thorns to rankle."

Dr. David does not hope that peace will result directly from the Stockholm movement. The utmost he expects is that the conference will lay a basis for a peace movement which will lead peace lovers in all countries can unite.

If the conference should prove to be abortive, Dr. David declares, Germany has perfected its organization so as to live on what it can raise and it will continue the struggle without weakening.

In answer to a question regarding the present German attitude toward America, the Socialist leader said there was no one in Germany who did not regret the break with the United States, and that it was the general hope that the war would be concluded before America's participation in the conflict could become actual.

Questioned as to the fate of the reform movement, Dr. David asserted that reform was sure to come but did not specify whether he thought the change would be effected during or after the war.

"We are in some respects ahead of America," he said, "in that we have a more democratic central Parliament. We are also ahead of England in this respect. We need a more democratic franchise for Prussia and we are going to obtain it."

The German Socialists apparently intend to remain in Copenhagen for some days before proceeding to Stockholm. Their stay there will be limited by the prospect of results and the reassembling of the German Reichstag in July.

Alsace-Lorraine Question.

The lavish promises of some of the outside intermediaries in the peace movement that the German Socialists and the German Government, in order to arrange a settlement of the Alsace-Lorraine question under the guise of "interim regulations" have no basis in fact, according to Dr. David. He was emphatic in declaring that no German party and no German Government could consent to the alienation of territory which was regarded as a fixed part of the German empire. According to the Socialist leader the only alterations of frontier which could be contemplated by the German Socialist party were minor ones as were based on local conditions and considerations. Among the phrases he used were:

"The question of Alsace-Lorraine is purely a German internal one." "Alsace-Lorraine is German land."

"The formula of peace without annexations does not apply to Alsace-Lorraine, because there has been no change in possession during the war."

"Neither the German Government nor the German Socialists are willing to surrender Alsace-Lorraine."

In explanation of the program with which the German majority Socialist are going to Stockholm, Dr. David said that it included the "restoration" of Belgium, but his language left uncertainty as to whether he meant financial aid toward restoring the desolated country to its pre-war conditions.

Polish Plankets Favored.

So far as Russian Poland is concerned, the majority Socialists advocate a planket to determine whether the population wishes the establishment of a kingdom under Austro-German auspices or alignment with Russia, either as part of that country or as a Polish state, with close regulations as to its eastern neighbor.

The statement that the German Socialists do not consider the possibility of any recession of Alsace-Lorraine to France is illumined by an article in the Socialist organ of Muehausen, Alsace, edited by the Socialist Reichstag Deputy, Joseph L. Emmel.

As quoted by the Tageblatt, the Socialist organ argues against anycession on the ground that in a centralized state like France there is no place for racial particularism or for a population like the Alsacians, marked out by names and dialect from the great body of the French nation. The paper argues that a federated structure like Germany just meets, on the other hand, the need for a state form into which Alsace-Lorraine can fit as an independent portion of the empire.

Peace Program of Austrian and German Socialist Delegates at Stockholm.

STOCKHOLM, May 31.—The peace program of the Austrian and German delegates to the Stockholm conference is outlined by the statements of a group of delegates. The six chief points of the

Jury Wheel, Type of Those From Which Draft Army Will Be Drawn

THIS jury wheel, used to select men for jury service in St. Louis, is similar to one which will be used in drawing the names of those who will make up the first army of 500,000 under conscription.

It is probable that the jury system of drawing will be followed in every detail. Under this system the names of 40,000 to 50,000 men are written on numbered slips and put into the jury wheel. As the wheel is turned a certain number of the slips drop out into a compartment, from which the slips are withdrawn. These slips contain a name and number, and by reference to the number in one of the jury books, full information as to name, age, residence, occupation, of the prospective juror is found.

The Jury Commissioner has no means of knowing in advance what names will be drawn from the wheel.

program are enumerated as follows:

First—No annexations.

Second—No indemnities.

Third—The South Slavic lands and Austria-Hungarian crown lands to remain in the dual monarchy, but Socialists should support the efforts of the inhabitants to gain autonomy.

Fourth—Finland and Russian Poland to be independent states. The people of Galicia to have autonomy under the sovereignty of Austria. Under this head the assertion is made that "an enduring solution of the Polish problem can be expected to be reached in the future by free agreements between the two central Powers and the independent state of Russian Poland."

Fifth—Restoration of freedom of commerce on land and sea, modification of the protectionist system, the establishment of "international administration" for all maritime routes and interoceanic canals; internationally built and administered railways.

Sixth—Return to the maritime principle established by the Paris peace treaty of 1863, especially regarding the prohibition of the arming of merchantmen; abolition of prize courts; reduction of the contraband list, taking therefrom especially all raw materials for clothing or food; modification of the rights of blockade and "restriction of mechanical means which may be employed in maritime and air warfare."

The delegates go on record as opposing the annexation of Belgium and declare themselves to be "friendly to Serbia's independence, which state, by joining with Montenegro, can assure itself of an outlet to the sea." They declare that the Balkan States should arrange their own internal affairs without outside interference.

The refusal of passports to Stockholm for American Socialists by the State Department continues to be a bitter disappointment to the delegates here, including James Eads How of St. Louis, chiefly because they believe the standard of the American Government will be misunderstood by the European press. President Wilson has been requested by telegram to reconsider the passport question, and there is hope here that America will eventually take a different view of the real intentions and motives behind the Stockholm conference.

He was appointed United States surveyor for New Mexico.

New Corn Remover Causes Big Run on Drug Stores

Since the virtue of Ice-Mint as a corn remover became known in this country, Druggists have been having an extraordinary demand for this product and it is of course mainly responsible for its large and increasing sale.

The fact that this new discovery which is made from a Japanese product will actually remove corns—roots and all—without the slightest pain or soreness, is of course mainly responsible for its large and increasing sale.

You apply just a little on the tender, inflamed, and sore corn. The corn is relieved, and soon the corn is shriveled, and can be lifted out with the fingers—root and all. It is a clean, creamy, snow white, non-poisonous substance that will never irritate or inflame the most tender skin. Outing or paring the corn off often produces a sore, and people are warned to stop it. Just apply Ice-Mint and you can quickly and painlessly remove the corn. There is nothing better.—ADVERTISER.

RUSH TO REGISTER BY MEN WHO WILL BE OUT OF CITY

Ten Clerks Unable to Accommodate Crowds at City Hall This Morning.

SECOND DAY OF CANVASS

Police Continue Work of Notifying All Subject to Draft to Register.

This is the second day of the house-to-house police canvass to notify all who are eligible for military service under the conscription law to register next Tuesday.

The Register's office at the city hall was crowded with men who are expected to be absent from St. Louis on registration day. Under the revised ruling of the War Department, absentees may register in their homes before leaving. The Register has 10 clerks at work today, but they were unable to accommodate the crowd. He will ask for more clerks.

Many strange requests are being received by officials from men seeking to escape the draft. A young man told the Mayor's secretary that he recently had been married, and that he had sworn he was 21 years old when he applied for the marriage license. He declared that he was not yet 21, and wanted the Mayor's secretary to help him find a way to escape responsibility for the oath he took in applying for the marriage license. The Mayor's secretary was unable to do anything for him.

Says He Underestimated Age.

Another man of German birth, who said that he lived in Chicago, told the Mayor's secretary that he was 32 years old, but that in registering for voting he had habitually understated his age. "The records in Chicago would show him to be under 30," he said. His birth records were in Germany, he declared, and he had no way of disproving what he had made to the registration officials in Chicago, unless he could get his birth certificate from Germany which appeared to be impossible.

There is a pressing need for automobiles for registration day, but only three have been offered. City officials repeated the request that automobiles be offered for use in carrying registration officials and interpreters from one precinct to another, and for such other purposes as required.

Sends Card by Mail.

E. H. Schermer of 4000 Grand avenue wrote to the clerk of the Fourth Precinct of the Twenty-fifth Ward, from New York, that he was registering by mail instead of in person. His letter was sent to the Mayor's office, and he was told that he would have to register in person.

City officials also would like to have some information concerning Frank L. Thornton, an actor, who registered as from St. Louis in Waunika, Ok., May 22. The clerk of the town failed to give Thornton's St. Louis address, and the officials have no way of finding him.

Two Columbia University Students Held on Anti-Draft Charge.

NEW YORK, May 31.—Owen Cattell and Charles F. Phillips, described as Columbia University students, and Eleanor Wilson Parker, a telephone operator, were today arrested charged with conspiring to spread anti-conscription sentiment.

Draft Law Assailed in New York Meeting of Socialists and Pacifists.

NEW YORK, May 31.—The conscription act was characterized today as being both immoral and unconstitutional by the first American conference on democracy and terms of peace, which was again in session today at Madison Square, with Socialists and pacifists in attendance. The speaker was Daniel Kiefer of Cincinnati, who was introduced after Dr. Judah L. Magnes, one of the organizers of the conference, had referred to newspaper dispatches from Washington telling of the purpose of the Department of Justice to take stenographic notes at peace meetings and prosecute those who infringe the law.

"I don't think this is the kind of meeting the Department of Justice means," said Dr. Magnes, "but if it is and there are stenographers here I would like to invite them to this platform where they may see and hear everything that is going on. In Prussia at political meetings the stenographers are seated on the platform. They take notes and report to the Government. Inasmuch as we are very rapidly becoming Prussianized, we should follow the Prussian example."

Dr. Magnes pointed out that the organizers of the conference had resolved that proposed adoption of any action contrary to the law would be declared to be out of order, but that they regarded as "perfectly within the law and favored all discussion as to the wisdom and unwisdom of existing laws."

Kiefer in his address advised appeal to the courts as "the first duty of a patriotic citizen who has been drafted."

"The conscription act," he said, "is both immoral and unconstitutional. It violates the prohibition against involuntary servitude."

OFFICIALS TOLD TO STOP ELIGIBLES TO DRAFT AT BORDER

Attorney-General Issues Order to Keep Watch on Meetings Throughout Country.

MANY AGENTS IN FIELD

Efforts to Resist Law Believed to Be Due Largely to Pro-German Influence.

WASHINGTON, May 31.—It was announced today that steps had been taken to prevent men subject to military registration from leaving the country before June 1. Department of Justice officials said every effort was being made to prevent evasion of the law by leaving the country.

Special orders also have been given to Government officials throughout the country to keep close watch upon meetings at which there is likely to be agitation against registration under the war army act, and prepare to arrest speakers who encourage violations of the law.

Although the Department of Justice is satisfied that German influence and money is behind efforts in various sections to interfere with registration, it is officially stated that the influences are regarded as local and sporadic and not inspired by any serious organized effort. Through the Committee on Public Information, Attorney-General Gregory made this announcement:

"The Department of Justice today communicated instructions by telegraph and long-distance telephone to its officers and agents in communities where meetings are likely to be held at which agitation against registration is prescribed in the new army bill might be indulged in. The United States Attorneys and Marshals were directed to be present or represented at the meetings, and to have stenographic reports made of the addresses delivered."

These reports will be gone over carefully and arrests will be made later in all instances in which the utterances of the speakers are calculated to discourage registration or influence individuals into attempting to evade the provisions of the law.

"The United States attorneys and marshals also were directed to keep close cooperation of the local police authorities in each community."

"From the reports being made daily by the agents throughout the country, officials of the department are convinced that such threats to resist registration as are being made are the result of local and sporadic influences and are not inspired by any organized effort of serious consequence."

In order to clear up a misunderstanding regarding registrations for the draft army, the War Department has announced officially that all men now in training camps, who are not either commissioned or have not enlisted, must register on June 5.

John E. Mooney sworn in as Deputy Constable After He Hears of Threats Against Him.

At his own request, Excise Commissioner John E. Mooney of St. Louis County was sworn in as a Deputy Constable of Bonneville Township today by Constable J. H. Dintelman. Mooney explained that threats had been made against him by some individual interested in the liquor traffic since the Law Enforcement League of St. Louis County was organized, with Mooney as president.

He said he wished to be sworn in as a Deputy Constable that he might have authority to carry a revolver. He said he expected to use the weapon only for self-defense. He said he had no intention, at the present, of raising any reports where liquor is sold illegally, unless the authorities should fail to completely in the discharge of their duties that it should become necessary.

200 DESTROYERS NEEDED IN BRITISH WATERS, U. S. NAVAL OFFICER WRITES

Declares They Are Essential to Combat U-Boats and That "More Ships Are Being Sunk Each Month Than Can Be Replaced in Same Time"

NEW YORK, May 31.—Two hundred American destroyers are needed in British waters to curb the submarine menace, says a letter sent by a United States naval officer, now in British waters, to Judge Townsend Scudder of Brooklyn. The letter was dated May 5, and the writer is a personal friend of the jurist. The letter says:

"My Dear Judge: I am taking the liberty of writing you in order that, knowing the truth, you may be able to remedy the evil. A number of destroyers arrived in port yesterday at 10:15, a 10 days' trip. This proves that the loss of this type can cross it has never been anticipated before. What I am writing to you about is this: The situation is really getting out of control. The American public has been fed on 'lies' for so long that it will be doubly difficult to impress it with the facts. The simple facts of increasing danger and impotence are:

"1. More ships are sunk each month than can possibly be replaced in the same interval of time.

"2. An insignificant number of submarines is being destroyed.

"3. Not one-tenth as many have been accounted for to date as we have been led to believe. A hundred American sea-going destroyers operating from this side may hold the situation in check long enough to enable the allied army to drive the Germans from France and Belgium. If the United States does not immediately embark on the construction of at least 100, and preferably 200, destroyers, then it will have only itself to blame for the handwriting on the wall. It already is too plain. I cannot write in detail. The letter would not get through. The situation is so serious that I am writing to you directly to tell you how things stand, and to urge you not to believe the reassuring statements brought back by publishers and writers. I am where the submarine is operating most extensively and for us the cards are now on the table. The

British Shipping Losses Reduced by Nine for Week.

LONDON, May 31.—The weekly statement issued last night on the shipping losses from submarines shows a total of 21 vessels destroyed, which is a decrease of nine for the week, 20 having been reported sunk in the previous week's report. The number of vessels of more than 100 tons sunk "en route" same as in last week's report—18. The official announcement says:

"Arrivals 2715, sailings 2760.

"British merchant vessels sunk by mines or submarines—over 1000 tons, 18; under 1000 tons, one.

"British merchant vessels unsuccessfully attacked, including one previously reported—37.

"British fishing vessels sunk—two."

The report invariably includes all merchant tonnage known to have been sunk by mines or submarines, whether employed by the Government or otherwise.

Summer weather and the long days favor warfare on the submarines, and this side is taking full advantage of these conditions. It is the belief of naval men that as long as those conditions prevail, there is little likelihood that the submarines will make any better showing than in the past month.

Submarines Sink Three Norwegian Sailing Ships.

LONDON, May 31.—Further losses of Norwegian ships are reported in a Central News dispatch from Christiania. It quotes the Norwegian Foreign Minister to the effect that German submarines have sunk the sailing vessels Astoria (2000 tons) and the steamship Glyn (probably the Glyn, 385 tons), and the Fridtjof Nansen (2197 tons).

STATES RIGHTS PLEA MADE

Other Side Take Position That U. S. Supreme Court Has Upheld Forced Service.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., May 31.—Arguments began in the Circuit Court here today on the injunction petitions filed by officers of the Federation for Democratic Control to enjoin Gov. Gardner, Mayor Edwards and other State, county and city officials from enforcing the draft legislation law next Tuesday. The State was represented by F. W. McAllister, Attorney-General, Samuel Spaulding representing the local election commissioners and Jacob Harfield, appearing for Mayor Edwards.

The argument presented by J. D. Shewalter for the petitioners was that the registration and draft are illegal, violating amendments to the Federal Constitution. Attorneys said the proceedings brought up phases of the law not passed upon in the recent Los Angeles decision, upholding the draft.

Harfield's Contentions.

Harfield is prepared to contend that the Supreme Court of the United States has held the draft to be legal. He will quote from a Supreme Court decision saying that a man "may be compelled by force, against his will, without regard to his personal interest or even his religious belief, to take his place in the ranks of the army."

Shewalter appealed to the doctrine of "states rights" in his argument, saying that state, county and city officials had no power to carry out the Federal duties assigned to them in the registration work. His argument, which was lengthy and composed largely of legal references, contained such phrases as "military empire," "liberty is threatened to be struck down," "registration has no existence under the Constitution," and "when you strike down the speech you strike down the bulwark of government."

He declared that the newspapers had forced the country into war and that they had brought on every other war this country has had with the exception of the revolution.

Many of the legal references made by Shewalter were from cases before the Civil War, growing out of violations of the fugitive slave law, and several from courts of the Southern states, principally Kentucky.

He frequently made quotations from the writings and speeches of Jefferson and Madison. His most frequent remark was that state officers could not be used to carry out the registration because state officials never before, he said, had been used in Federal positions. He declared the Federal Government was assuming "tyrannical and arbitrary power" in conscripting men.

He said many men would not register next Tuesday, but did not amplify his statement. He said that he himself did not fear imprisonment or even death in opposing the registration and conscription.

Total Announced From State of New York Alone Is $541,913,750.

EAST IN THE LEAD

Announcements From West Are Incomplete—Total Expected to Be Increased.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.
NEW YORK, May 31.—The first comprehensive figures on announced subscriptions to the $2,000,000,000 Liberty Loan of 1917 are presented by the New York World today.
The World's figures are carefully compiled from authenticated announcements only, up to Tuesday afternoon. They follow:
Total subscriptions announced, $1,059,958,750.
Total announced from State of New York, $541,913,750.
Total announced from all other states, $518,045,000.
Total announced from states east of the Mississippi, $1,077,358,750.
Total subscriptions announced from states west of the Mississippi, $22,600,000.
The lead of one of the largest banks in New York estimates that bankers in this city have a minimum of $600,000,000 of subscriptions to the Liberty Loan on hand and yet to send in. Accepting this estimate, the State of New York alone is assured of a minimum total subscription of $1,414,913,750, without taking into account subscriptions made from today until the close of the books, June 15.

Total for Three Districts.
The Treasury Department's proportion of the loan for the three Federal Reserve Districts, which have their headquarters in Boston, New York and Philadelphia, combined was 49 per cent of the $2,000,000,000, or approximately $980,000,000.

May 5 the Treasury Department gave out partially complete totals for subscriptions May 4 and 5, the first two days on which the books were open. Since then it has decided to make public no subscriptions. Therefore the World's figures include subscriptions from far Western States from which no announcements have come except for those two days, and for the same reason from states south of Virginia only for May 4 and 5. They include all officially announced subscriptions published in the papers, individually or in groups, of $100,000 or more. Those announced under that figure are too few to effect the total.

An analysis of figures shows that this $1,059,958,750 includes subscriptions from: Less than 1 per cent numerically of the national and commercial banks of the United States.

Less than 5 per cent numerically of the great industrial corporations.

Less than 5 per cent numerically of the savings banks.

Less than 5 per cent numerically of the trust companies.

Less than 5 per cent of the larger utilities corporations.

No fear is felt by the Liberty Loan Committee that when the books close at least 90 per cent of all units represented by these groups will have subscribed liberally.

The $1,059,958,750 total of announced subscriptions includes none, so far as is known, from J. P. Morgan & Co., the National City Bank, the Harvester Trust, the Bethlehem Steel Corporation, Armour & Co., and only one of $100,000 from the Standard Oil group.

"Big Business" to Do Its "Bit."
These corporations are mentioned merely because of their size and prominence and as illustrative of the manner in which the people of the United States are responding to this patriotic duty, without dependence upon many of the nation's greatest financial interests. It is not intended to convey an intimation that these of any of the corporations are "big business" will not do, if they have not already done, their part and do it liberally. Public announcement, however, has not yet been made.

It is the general belief that "big business" in the United States will respond as fully at least as "big business" in England, France, Germany and other belligerent nations have responded during the war. This is clearly indicated by the fact that representatives of all the great financial interests are devoting their time and energies to making this loan a great success. President Frank A. Vanderlip of the National City Bank has announced that $100,000,000 cash is in his bank to lend at 3 1/2 per cent to would-be Liberty Bond investors. He has informed the New York World that this institution, when it lends in its subscriptions, hopes to better the $75,000,000 mark set by another New York bank.

Charles M. Schwab has made an initial purchase of $1,000,000 for his personal account, although no announcement has come from the Bethlehem Steel Corporation, which he heads. J. O. Armour has bought a like amount for his personal account, although no announcement has come from Armour & Co.; John D. Rockefeller has bought for his personal account $15,000,000 and so the list could be gone through.

Women Requested to Make Personal Campaign for Sale of Liberty Bonds.
WASHINGTON, May 31.—An appeal to all American women to make personal campaigns of the sale of Liberty Bonds was issued last night by the Woman's Liberty Loan Committee, of which Mrs. W. G. McCauley is chairman. The National Croissant Society, a benevolent organization with headquarters at Pittsburgh and assemblies in 46 states, is being organized by Mrs. McCauley, who has been subscribed to $100,000 of the bonds.

It also was announced that the Chicago Burlington and Quincy Railroad had subscribed to $5,000,000 of the issue.

Girl Driving Meat Truck to Release Brother to Navy Carries Vanity Case and Powder Puff Engineering Student, Plays the Piano and Cooks

Miss Claudia Ellis Apparently Regards Uncle Sam as Her Nearest and Dearest Relative and Even Her Fiance Must Do His Bit in War Before She Will Be Married.

By Marguerite Martyn.

ALL loyal nieces of Uncle Sam may now cease repining that they were not born nephews, able to offer the services of their whole selves in the present great emergency, and—if they really are sincere—profit by the example of Miss Claudia Ellis.
Not for an instant did this 23-year-old young woman let petticoats, prettiness, a frail physique, girlish fondnesses for ice cream sodas, piano playing, basket ball, powder puffs, parties and a fiance stand in the way when she saw her chance to release her brother for the navy by taking his job as the driver of a packing house delivery truck.
Incidentally, neither has she put those girlish fancies and fondnesses behind her.

As her companion on the seat of the motor truck, over the day's route, robed in the enveloping white linen ulster of the trade, I myself became accustomed to the surroundings of several hundred pounds of hams, bacon, pork chops and sausages. And as she guided the car through the streets, occupied in the early hours chiefly with other trade vehicles, and we drew up at the back doors of the retail markets, and I learned what pleasant, sociable folk the much money off of the poor, impoverished neophytes who had no better judgment than to buy in small quantities.

Personality of Girl Driver.
AND while we wove through the narrow Ghetto streets and climbed the steep North Side streets near the river and braved the congested cross-traffic south to Fifteenth and Clark, though it was not quite so easy riding as in a limousine, I gathered on the way something of the personality of a girl who can drive a two-ton 48-horsepower truck.
I learned that a second breakfast consists of an ice cream soda, and I doubt that it is much less sensible than the can of beer another driver might have chosen. I learned that she carries a vanity case and powder puff beneath the folds of the long linen frock; that she was once the basket ball favorite on the play grounds of a school which we passed; that she is a baseball enthusiast, even to the extent of playing herself; that she is a pianist, and that she can play the piano and cook. That, in fact, to use her own words, she tries to do "everything my hands and limbs will let me do." And I learned that she was impatient to get through this particular morning's work so that she could attend a luncheon of the Illinois University alumni.

"I am not a member," she said. "I attended Glendale Academy in Illinois. The sister of my very dear friend invited me to all the Illinois reunions." There had been too many allusions to a very dear friend in Illinois. She told me she had taken a course in consulting engineering at Chicago University.

"I hoped to induce my father to buy an ice and cold storage plant and he—I we both wanted to be engineers," she had said.
So I made bold to ask tentatively, "When are you going to marry him?" And she owned up, "But not until after the war is over." "He has hit to do. He is 32 years old, but he has enrolled for the officers' reserve of the mechanical engineers' corps. And I have my bit to do. I am determined that no foreigner and no slacker shall have this wheel. I am careful to see that any helper is always a boy under age. There will be more than enough work for all the men who are not eligible for service, and I hope my pioneering will lead other women to see that we have got to be ready to replace the men."

Mrs. Rose Vorobiov, 32 years old, of 1208 High street, and her caller, John Gutty, 32, who told the police he had no particular place of abode, were shot at 7 o'clock last night. They were taken to the city hospital. Mrs. Vorobiov had bullet wounds in the breast and right arm and Gutty was wounded in the right side of the chest.

The police arrested the woman's husband, Frank Vorobiov, who denied knowledge of the shooting.

market men are behind the scenes, and how patriotically encouraging, with her smile of recognition and approval, to the woman who goes early to market with a basket on her arm, and the pushing great hand trucks laden with carcasses or standing at vats cutting and slicing and hacking raw meat.

Handles Meat When Necessary.
MISS ELLIS has a helper, as did her brother, for the weight of an order frequently is more than one man can lift. She rarely is required to handle the meat, but she doesn't hesitate to do so when it is necessary. She stood waiting while men did the loading and Mr. Honneger, the president, appeared and entertained us with a tour of the plant. It is a new plant with many new buildings going up and a prosperous one, but favorable advertisement does not go amiss anywhere and from the cordial relations between the new truck driver and her employers it is evident the advertisement she has incurred has not been distasteful.

I learned that Miss Ellis' father is a meat jobber who has been in business in St. Louis some 20 years, and that in releasing a man for her Uncle Sam she also is taking the place of a son to her father in his business. Much of her route is the same that her father established, except that now it is longer, she having 35 places to call. Almost our first stopping place was at the little shop of an ancient Spaniard named Triay.

"I have traded with her father 20 years," he said. "If he had kept to the old horse and wagon and hadn't bought automobiles he would have been a rich man today," was his gratuitous comment while the order was weighed on a pair of old-fashioned scales so rickety that all hands had to watch closely lest they prove false in some way.

"He may be right," averred Miss Ellis. "I know that with his methods he has accumulated most of the property in this neighborhood."

All the way along the route the populace favored us with hearty signs of recognition, usually friendly. To the shopkeepers the visit of the woman meat vendor is in the nature of a social event. They joke and chaff and "jolly," and seem to find the keenest enjoyment in the effort to confuse her about price quotations and her additions. But what enjoyment they get out of it they are welcome to, so far as she is concerned.

"Indeed, I haven't quit my job," said Miss Claudia. "I've made $30 besides my salary in two weeks from the commissions which the company pays for new customers. Many dealers have called up, saying they wanted the girl driver to call for their orders. Yes, you can come along and see for yourself how it goes, if you can't get up early enough. I start out at 5 o'clock in the morning and work until 3."

I am afraid I must have been still a little skeptical, for I was late and had to wait until 7 next morning when she returned for her second load.

PLAN FOR RAISING $1,000,000,000 IN RUSSIA APPROVED

Government Accepts Ministers' Proposal; Steps to Be Taken to Get Paper Money.

CONFISCATION SCHEME

Move Considered as Result of Capitalist's Failure to Subscribe to War Loan.

PETROGRAD, May 31.—The provisional Government today approved the proposal of temporary Finance Minister Terechenko to raise 2,000,000,000 rubles ($1,000,000,000) and take steps for securing for the treasury "the supply of paper money which already has become indispensable," the official news agency announces.

The Government's approval of the measure was unanimous, it is stated. The correspondent of the Associated Press understands that the Government, with a view of confiscating private property, will issue a communication regarding the war loan and declaring that the aim of the war loan is to prevent the flooding of the country with fresh paper currency, not backed by gold.

The Government, the communication will say, must, as things stand, issue more and more paper, with the result that a further depreciation in the paper already issued will occur.

The communication will add that the capitalists will feel that this kind of confiscation is much more burdensome than voluntary subscriptions to an interest-bearing loan.

The sole aim of the confiscation being to call in paper money, war stocks will be exempted. The Government will further remind persons who hoard currency for crimes or offenses committed prior to March 20, 1917.

The Government has also decreed repressive measures against the abuse of alcohol. Persons getting drunk or drinking to excess in public places are liable to 15 months' imprisonment. Persons who drink committing robberies, acts of violence or other offenses, will be liable to penal servitude for six or eight years.

Serious Economic Situation.
Food Minister Plechichonoff unfolded the serious economic situation to the congress of officers' delegates from the front, explaining that it had been impossible as yet to establish a grain monopoly, owing to the complicated organization required.

On the eve of the revolution, he said, there was virtually no wheat available. The supplies had increased in March, but dwindled again in April. The army requirement was 15,000,000 pods (more than 10,000,000 bushels) of wheat weekly, and the country could produce only 10,000,000 pods. The shipments now arriving were bigger, but far from normal, and the people probably would be obliged to face a still further shortage. Other grains, especially oats, also were scarce.

He feared that even after the grain requisitioning of the situation would not be improved, because, surplus of paper money, the peasants demanded raw materials and iron implements in exchange for their produce.

The central committee, which has in charge the requisitioning of the situation, continued the Minister, has only 2,000,000 pods of iron on hand, while the munitions factories require 30,000,000. Hence, Russia is on the eve of a catastrophe, he declared, unless the population—particularly the peasants—prepare for the great economic self-sufficiency of the revolution.

The provisional Government has abolished the practice of arresting bankrupt merchants.

Consacks Support Government.
The Consacks in the United States held a convention recently and adopted a resolution to give their unqualified support to the temporary Government.

They also issued an appeal to all citizens of free Russia to follow their example. Among the declarations contained in the appeal were the following:

"You must remember that the enemy is watching our interior disorganization. Away with fraternizing and disorders."

"We have only the front—our own and that of our allies. The army must not remain quiet, but must help the allies by advancing."

Information from the Tambov Government indicates that the peasants are bringing wheat to the army in increasing quantities. Some of the village authorities are refusing to accept pay.

The guard at the palace at Tsarskoe-Selo, where the former Emperor and Empress are prisoners, has been relaxed to such an extent that it has called forth complaint from the commander of the Petrograd district, who, after visiting the palace, declared that the duties of the guard were being carelessly and irregularly carried out and hinted that, under the present conditions, escape was by no means impossible.

"I found the guards sitting about smoking and talking with bystanders," said the commander, "and the change of guards was effected in a haphazard manner not according to military regulations. I ask you to remember that we are guarding the chief representative of the old regime and the person guilty of the terrible oppression from which the Russian people have freed themselves with such difficulty. We are responsible before the whole country for guarding this prisoner, and I cannot allow troops under my authority to take so lightly the task entrusted to them. I hope that henceforth officers and soldiers will keep an even stricter guard than the military regulations of the old regime demanded."

MEN ON WATERLOGGED SHIP CLING TO KEEL FIVE DAYS

Derelict on Side Then Rights Itself, and Hungry Crew Drank Its Blood.

HAVANA, May 31.—George Delbat, Captain, and a member of the crew of the American schooner M. E. Eldridge of Dennis, Mass., met death in the Gulf of Mexico recently from exposure and starvation after the lumber-laden vessel had been struck by a hurricane and become a derelict.

Eight members of the Eldridge were brought here by a British schooner and told of having been 15 days on their waterlogged ship, with only a little food and water. The Eldridge left Tampa, May 5, for Cienfuegos, and three days later ran into the hurricane.

Oliver Kemp, mate of the schooner, said that, when the storm struck her, she began taking water rapidly and settled, despite hard work at the pumps. Instead of sinking, however, the schooner turned on her side, the crew clinging to her keel. For five days the men hung on, waves breaking over them constantly. Then, seeing that the schooner was making an effort to right herself, the crew cut away her mast and the vessel came to an upright position and the men took refuge on her deck.

A seaman managed to get into the hold of the schooner, said Kemp, and bring up several cans of food. When this gave out the crew succeeded in hauling a shark aboard with ropes. The bulk of the fish was drunk its blood and ate some of the flesh.

Several ships passed within sight of the stranded vessel, but none of them observed her signals and the men had almost resigned themselves to die when the British schooner took them aboard.

and it was feared that his skull was fractured.

Mrs. Gus Bone and three of her four children were injured, and are in the emergency hospital attached to the Y. M. C. A. Building at De Soto. Physicians fear Mrs. Bone's back is broken.

Two St. Louis Priests Hurt.
Two St. Louis Catholic priests, the Rev. Fathers Patrick J. O'Connor of St. James' Church, 1380 Tamm avenue, and C. E. O'Leary of Notre Dame Church, 1015 W. 11th, were in the depot, and both were injured. They were sent to St. John's Hospital, St. Louis, and it was said there this morning that Father O'Connor seemed to have suffered serious internal injuries. Father O'Leary was less severely hurt.

A local train was approaching Mineral Point from the south as the tornado came, this being the train for which the St. Louis priests were waiting. Among the passengers on this train were a large number of women and children from Mineral Point who had spent the early part of the day at a Memorial day celebration in Hopewell, four miles south of Mineral Point. They saw their homes blown away, but their presence on the train is believed to have saved a number of them from death or injury.

This train was stopped a mile from Mineral Point because the block signal was down. It was found later that the signal had been operated automatically by the damage done to a short section of the track, which was thrown out of line. This is the purpose of the block signal system.

Passengers in Rescue Work.
The train was delayed near Mineral Point until the track could be repaired, and meantime the passengers helped in rescue work. Some negotiated the difficult in lifting heavy beams and extricating women and children from houses. Two St. Louis Methodist Ministers, the Rev. M. T. Haw and the Rev. R. L. Russell, were among the relief workers from the train. The train, when it proceeded took 20 of the injured to De Soto, where they were placed in the Y. M. C. A. temporary hospital.

LaChance was an employee of the Point Mining & Milling Co., and was killed by the falling of a beam. The Goff child was injured in the neck of his parents' home, and died later.

De Soto merchants today sent cots and tents to Mineral Point, for the use of those who are without shelter. Two carloads of provisions, from St. Louis and intermediate places, also went to Mineral Point.

The Lokai Anzeiger's statement would tend to confirm yesterday's report that the council of state had resigned.

SECOND SERIES OF CAMPS FOR OFFICERS

Men Disappointed in First Selection for Training Possibly Will Get Preference.

Leased Wire From the Washington Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.
WASHINGTON, May 31.—A Post-Dispatch reporter, making inquiry at the War Department, learned today that those positively would be a second series of training camps for candidates for commissions in the Officers' Reserve Corps. While no date has been fixed, it is expected that they will begin about Sept. 1.

There are at present 18 training camps in the country, with a capacity of 200 each, or a total of 40,000. More than 20,000 men passed the examinations for admission to the camps.

In Colorado, Kansas and Missouri, the states whose candidates were sent to Fort Riley for training, more than 6,000 passed the preliminary tests, over half from Missouri. Thus 3,000 candidates were disappointed.

According to the figures compiled by the Central Department in Chicago, 13,000 eligible applicants for training at the four camps in the district—Fort Riley, Fort Snelling, Fort Sheridan and Fort Benjamin Harrison—could not be accommodated.

In St. Louis about 2,000 were examined and 1,300 accepted. Of this number 300 were sent to Fort Riley.

While the men who passed the examination and failed to be called to camp have no official status with the War Department, their names are on file and it is understood that they will get preference when the second camps are established.

The act of registration next Tuesday will net bar a man from volunteering his services in any branch of the United States army or navy.

USE OF MEN FROM THE DRAFT BEFORE SEPTEMBER INDICATED

Guard and Regular Units Filled by June 30 to Be Built Up From New Army.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., May 31.—Instructions received by the Southern Department are that, according to full war strength of national guard and regular army units must be completed by June 30. It was further stated that units not up to required strength by June 30 will be built up from men drafted for the first increment of the new army.

Since former statements had indicated that actual drafting of the new army would not begin until Sept. 1, the new instructions are taken by Southern Department officers to indicate an immediate use of men chosen under the selective draft.

BULLETS FAIL; TRY FISTS
Deputy and Bootleg Suspect Fire 30 Shots Without Effect.

BRINGING, Ok., May 31.—Deputy Sheriff John Hart and John Porter, an alleged interstate liquor transporter, shot at each other from behind trees at about 30 paces under the use of ammunition. Neither was injured, whereupon they fought it out with fists. Porter was taken to jail a little later by Sheriff Ballard, who appeared on the scene.

Thirty shots were fired in the battle and a man with Porter destroyed all the liquor they carried. A bullet from Hart's revolver entered this man's leg.

ADMIRAL UPSHUR DEAD OF NAVY AT HIS DEATH

Was 94 Years Old, and Served With Commodore Perry and With Porter.

WASHINGTON, May 31.—American naval officers keenly regret the loss of Rear Admiral Uphur, who, until his death here last night of heart disease, was the oldest living graduate of the United States naval academy and dean of the flag officers. He was 94 years old.

His naval career had included service with Commodore Perry in the historic voyage to Japan, service in the Civil War with Porter and many important commands with the newer navy.

MAN SHOT, 2 BEATEN, IN EAST ST. LOUIS

Soldiers and Police Prevent Serious Disturbances Between Negroes and Whites.

Although the East St. Louis saloons were permitted to be open Decoration day until 6 p. m. and there was much drinking by men who were idle for the day, the six Illinois militia companies and the police, aided by bad weather, had the situation well in hand and there was little disorder last night.

Mayor Mollman said he anticipated no further disturbances, and that idlers would not be permitted to gather on the streets. It was reported that several hundred negro laborers, employed by the Aluminum Ore Co., the Commercial Acid Co., the American Steel Foundry Co. and other large concerns, failed to report for duty today. Many of these are believed to have left East St. Louis.

William Brane, 21 years old, a negro employed at a packing house, was attacked by white men at 6 p. m., at Fifth street and Ohio avenue, and shot in the neck. The police say he had a revolver, but threw it away. He was taken to the Deaconess Hospital. His condition is serious.

Clayborn Jerdine, negro, of 738 Locust street, was beaten in the Stockyards district and sent to the Deaconess Hospital.

Charles Daggett of Newport, Ill., was attacked at First street and St. Clair avenue, and was rescued by the police after he had been beaten. He was sent to the hospital.

At 12:30 this morning, there was shooting near 111 Eighth avenue, and soldiers and police went to investigate. While they were in the rear of that address, a shot was fired and the bullet passed through a soldier's coat. John Schaefer, white, living there, admitted firing the shot. He said he did not know the man in the yard was soldiers and policemen. He was arrested.

At 4:30 a. m., five reports were heard at Sixth and Broadway. The police were told that a railroad man had been tormented on the street car track.

TEN PERSONS INJURED IN AUTO ACCIDENTS LAST NIGHT

Five Hurt When Machine Collides With Truck; Three Cut When Car Skids.

Ten persons were injured in automobile accidents last night. Five were cut and bruised when the service automobile of George Milton, 283 Union boulevard, collided with a motor truck on Broadway, between Tyler and La Baume streets. Milton's passengers were Mary Wilbert, 19 years old, of 1123 North Seventeenth street; Nellie Saulmeyer, 16, 123 Madison street; Frank Dierker, 208 Adelaide avenue, and Arthur Wisniewsky, 211 St. Louis avenue. Ben Douglas, negro driver of the truck, was arrested.

Willie E. Van Kamp, 3820A Olive street; Albert Hoff, 429 Aubert avenue and H. R. McMillan of New York City were cut and bruised when Van Kamp's auto skidded and overturned at Jefferson and Lafayette avenues.

Vincent Valente, 285 Eads avenue, was thrown from a motor truck in a collision with a Southampton car, at Eighteenth and Pine street. His left arm and several ribs were fractured.

Robert Brown, teamster, 28 years old, of 323 Chouteau avenue, was run over at Grand and Magnolia avenues by the automobile of Mose Frank, a salesman, of 1641 Spring avenue.

CANCELLATION OF DISMISSAL OF CHINESE PREMIER DEMANDED

Military Governors Consider President's Action Unauthorized; Troops Occupy Railroads.

PEKIN, May 31.—Numerous military governors have demanded the cancellation of the presidential mandate dismissing Tuan Chi Jui from the premiership, considering the President's action unauthorized. Li Ching Hai, whose nomination as successor to Tuan was approved by the Senate, has refused to accept the premiership.

The military governors of Honan, Anhwei and Shan Tung provinces and at Mukden have threatened to declare their independence unless their demands for the cancellation of the mandate are conceded.

The military governor of Mukden, Chang Tso-Lin, has occupied the railway stations 100 miles to the south, while the military governor of Anhwei has occupied the southern section of Tsin Tsin-Pukow Railway. Through traffic has not been interfered with and the lives of foreigners are safe.

The bicycle is coming back. See the offers of good used vehicles in the Want pages.

ALASKA DRAFT REGISTRATION

Date to Be Selected by Gov. Strong and Probably Will Be in Autumn.

SEATTLE, Wash., May 31.—The date for the registration of eligible men for the selective draft in Alaska has been left to the discretion of Gov. Strong of that territory. A large part of the territory still will be ice and snow bound June 5. A registration date in autumn probably will be chosen. It is reported that many men of military age joined the cannery crew bound for remote points in Bering Sea with the declared intention of avoiding registration June 5. The change of date will enable them to be registered.

In Men's Clothing Be Sure of Quality

We again lay particular stress on the well-known quality of our cloths, workmanship and trimmings, all these important features, combined with the S. V. B. Standard.

Our Three Specials

$15      $20      $25

We specialize on $15, $20 and $25 Spring-weight Suits in many colors and models to fit any and all figures.

If we purchased Clothing today, it would mean the price advancement in all our various groups of men's clothing—but we have carefully protected ourselves and our trade by previous contracts.

Our Price Quotations are therefore, namely, such that you will immediately appreciate. Naturally it is not necessary for us to lower the quality to meet price competition.

Advance styles make ours a safe line—a line representing real values that may be depended upon to give thorough satisfaction and to exert a strong influence in the building of future trade.

KEEP YOUR BLOOD YOUNG

Red-blooded people retain their youthful vigor up to old age because red blood flows freely. Fresh air, good food and Pepto-Manganol are red blood builders.

A child—with impure blood in his veins—seems comparatively old. Impure blood is blood that is with poisonous waste matter which enters through the system, saps the life, mingles and spoils of child. Pure blood is rich, red blood power to rid itself of waste matter, to carry and distribute oxygen to every cell and tissue. When people advanced in years are energetic and keenly interested in living. Such is the kind of blood every day of your existence—the blood created by good food, exercise, sleep and Pepto-Manganol.

Pepto-Manganol

"The Red Blood Builder" Pepto-Manganol enriches your blood by putting the red blood cells in proper shape for work. It increases the number and capacity to carry and distribute oxygen. It improves your appetite, increases your vitality, restores your vigor, gives you a good complexion, and keeps you healthy and strong.

Pepto-Manganol comes only in the form of Tablets, or in the form of a liquid. It is made by Dr. J. C. Breitenbach Co., Manufacturing Chemists, New York, and is sold at all drug stores.

An Unusual Advertisement Tomorrow, Here, Is "Liberty Loan" Day!

THE ENTIRE DAY'S RECEIPTS WILL BE USED TO PURCHASE LIBERTY LOAN BONDS

WE, as an institution, recognize the same duty that every individual feels at this time. We want—yes, we MUST help the country mobilize its dollars—and have hit upon this unique idea that will make our subscription for Liberty Loan Bonds, ten times greater than it would otherwise be.

In order to make the entire plan a great success, we have prepared a host of unsurpassed bargains throughout the store—a small per cent of them are told of on this page. Come tomorrow to the Lindell—you can "do your bit" and incidentally practice economy. We need your help, for we are determined to

First Dutch Ship Since January Arrives.
NEW YORK, May 31.—The first liner from Holland since Jan. 22 has arrived.

at an Atlantic port with 222 first, 241 second and 974 third class passengers via Halifax, where she was detained two days for examination. There were 119 Americans among the passengers, of whom 72 were survivors of submarine sinkings in the North Sea and the English Channel.

LETTER IS MAILED HERE FOR KING OF BASUTOLAND

Monarchy Which Is Ruled by Christian Negro Is in South Africa, and Belongs to Postal Union.
The first letter ever mailed in St. Louis for Basutoland, South Africa, was a puzzle to postal clerks yesterday. To add to the mystification it was addressed to "His Majesty, Nathaniel Griffith."
After consulting postal guides and gazetteers, the clerks decided that the letter could be sent, as Basutoland is in the postal union and has a King named Nathaniel Griffith. He is a negro.
The letter contained a small token for the king and mailed by a St. Louis priest. The citizens of Basutoland are nearly all Christians. The King was converted about eight years ago.

YOUNG MEN GOING TO MEXICO

Officials Believe They Are Leaving U. S. to Avoid Conscription.
LAREDO, Tex., May 31.—Federal officials here have disclosed the fact that from 15 to 20 young Americans, with but little baggage, but carrying plenty of money, are crossing into Mexico daily. They go South ostensibly to mine, prospect for oil or pursue other occupations for which they apparently are not trained, and it is believed by officials that they are leaving the United States to avoid conscription.
Most of the young men are from Eastern States, some being from points as far east as Maine and New Hampshire. A full description is taken of each American leaving the country for future identification.

SAYS MAN JUMPED INTO RIVER

A negro watchman on a wharfbat at Washington avenue informed the police that he saw a young white man jump into the river from Eads Bridge at 6:36 o'clock this morning.
The leap, he said, was made from the south side of the bridge at the second span, and the man was drowned.

COLOR FOR WEARING APPAREL OPPOSED IN EN

ment began to restrict. Entirely to Men in Flight Forces.

LONDON, May 31.—Several newspapers have started a campaign for the use of khaki material as wearing apparel, de-

it should be done only if it has signified their intent to see the soldier ranks.

Khaki should be the color of man's uniform and his the introductory paragraph of the London papers, and "It has the average of men to see other men or women about the streets in this color."

particularity hurts when a man's "soft job" at home struts as if just returned from the front.

Khaki can tell the difference between the soldier and the civilian. The latest instance of this is the provision of a khaki uniform for an overcoat, hat, skirt, boots, overalls and cap for the women's army, known as the W. Auxiliary Aid Corps.

The advantages of a standard color, and why khaki should be selected is a paradox.

The demands of war have produced useful and becoming costume for women workers which have the sign of trespass upon this which, since Boer War, has been generally recognized as the dress of the fighting troops.

"Serviceability must, of course, be considered, but khaki is a color which provides for this."

COLOR FOR WEARING APPAREL OPPOSED IN ENGLAND

London, May 31.—Several London newspapers have started a campaign opposing the use of khaki-colored apparel as wearing apparel, declaring it should be done only by men in the military ranks.

The latest instance of this excessive color of the fighting men's color is the provision of a khaki uniform consisting of an overcoat, hat, skirt, blouse, overalls and cap to the new women's army, known as the Women's Military Aid Corps.

The advantages of a standard dress for the women is a paradox. The demands of war have produced many useful and becoming costumes for women, which have shown no signs of trespass upon this colony, which, since Boer War, has come to be generally recognized as the distinctive color of the fighting troops.

Serviceability must, of course, be the consideration, but khaki is not the color which provides for this.

ILLINOIS SENTRY KILLS MAN

CHICAGO, May 31.—Private Homer Merwin, B Company, First Illinois Infantry, early today shot and killed Fred W. Struder, formerly an inmate of the Elgin asylum, at a railroad bridge near this city.

The man was seen by another sentry, Private B. A. Schalk, creeping toward the bridge. He was challenged but struck the soldier on the head with a club. Merwin fired as the man started to run away.

AVIATION INSTRUCTOR KILLED

Student Who Was Making First Flight Severely Injured

BUFFALO, N. Y., May 31.—Fred W. Zimmer, an aviation instructor, was fatally injured, and Seymour H. Knox Jr., a young Buffalo millionaire, who was making his first flight in a training course for Government service, suffered internal injuries and head wounds yesterday when the hydroplane in which the two were riding crashed into a telegraph pole.

Zimmer, caught under the engine of the aircraft, suffered a fractured skull and died in the hospital a few hours after the accident. Knox will recover, it was said.

The Real Secret of Rejuvenating the Face

She holds the true secret of facial rejuvenation who has learned to remove the dead skin particles as fast as they appear. It is a secret anyone may possess. The aged, faded or discolored surface skin may be gradually absorbed, in an entirely safe and rational manner, by the nightly application of ordinary mercerized wax. Within a week or two the underlying skin, youthful and beautiful to behold, has taken the place of the discarded cuticle. So little of the old skin is absorbed each day there is no inconvenience at all, and no one suspects you are putting anything on your face. The mercerized wax, procurable at any drug store (an ounce is sufficient), is applied like cold cream. In the morning it is washed with soap and water. It is the best thing known for freckles, blackheads, pimples, moth patches, liver spots and fine surface wrinkles.

For the deeper wrinkles and crow's feet an excellent and harmless recipe is: powdered eggshells, one ounce, dissolved in one-half pint witch hazel. Bathing the face in this solution produces quick and wonderful results. It is fine for saggy cheeks or chin—ADV.

BERLIN PAPER REPLIES TO ASQUITH AND CECIL

Semi-Official Publication Declares Germany Purposes No Annexation for Aggrandizement.

AMSTERDAM, May 31.—The declaration is made by the semi-official Norddeutsche Allgemeine Zeitung of Berlin that Germany desires no extension of territory for the purpose of aggrandizement, or of political or economic accretions of power. Germany wishes solely to defend her own territory against foreign plans of conquest, the newspaper says, and, moreover, demands such guarantees as will serve for the purpose of defense and self-protection.

These statements are made in commenting on recent speeches by Lord Robert Cecil, British Minister of Blockade, and H. H. Asquith, former British Premier. The newspaper says that apart from the imputations in Mr. Asquith's speech, the principles expounded coincide with those of responsible German quarters, both formerly and during the present war.

Lord Robert Cecil said in the House of Commons, May 16, that Great Britain could not commit herself to a policy of returning German colonies and Turkish provinces in which the natives have been mistreated, and asked whether such a policy should be adopted in the case of Poland, Alsace-Lorraine and Italy. He said Germany should make reparation for despoiling Belgium, Serbia and Northern France, and destroying merchant ships. Mr. Asquith said that if the war were to end in an honorable peace there must be annexation, continuing the emancipation of populations laboring under despotism, and that the retention of strategic positions as safeguards against future attacks might be necessary.

JULY WHEAT HAS LOST 69 CENTS

Sells at $1.04 in Chicago Market—Flour Prices Lower.

CHICAGO, May 31.—July wheat today went under $2 a bushel and touched $1.94, which is 89 cents lower than the price which immediately preceded restrictive regulations by the Board of Trade here two weeks ago.

Flour prices have to a large extent followed the lead of wheat. No agitation has developed among bakers to reduce bread prices, however. At the top of the market the 6-cent loaf was advanced to 10 cents and the 15-cent loaf made its appearance. Good crop reports from Texas and Oklahoma were influential in the decline in wheat.

London Club for U.S. Officers. LONDON, May 31.—The Times says it understands that Baron Leonfeldt's house in Chesterfield Gardens has been procured for use as a club for American naval and military officers passing through London. Baron Leonfeldt offered the house to the Government some months ago, and it was to have been taken over for officers.

600 ELKS DECORATE GRAVES OF DEPARTED BROTHERS AT NIGHT

Seven O'clock Memorial Service at Bellevue Cemetery Probably
First of Kind Ever Held.
Graves of members of the Elks lodge at Bellevue Cemetery were decorated at 11 o'clock last night at an impressive service attended by about 600 members of the order.
A ritualistic service was conducted by Joseph Glauber, exalted ruler, a band played while the graves were being decorated and Daniel E. Hanlon, an actor, recited Bryant's Thanatopsis through a megaphone.
The services lasted an hour, being
The Elks' Fine Assorted
Milk Chocolates—30c lb. Friday.

started at 10:15 p. m. A heavy rain fell a part of the time. The cemetery gates, for the first time in 50 years, were opened at night, for five minutes, to permit the Elks to enter the cemetery.
They were opened again for the same length of time to permit them to pass out.
Glauber explained that this probably was the first time in the history of an Elks' organization that the graves of members were decorated at night. The hour of 11 o'clock was chosen because it is that hour that Elks, wherever pathered, drink a toast to absent brothers.
The cemetery was lighted for last night's ceremonies.

AMERICA BORN TO SERVE MANKIND, SAYS PRESIDENT

Nation's Opportunity to Show
This to World, He Declares.

MEMORIAL DAY TALK

Country Will Prove Itself Greater Than Ever in New Cause, Says Wilson.

WASHINGTON, May 31.—President Wilson in the memorial day address at Arlington national cemetery yesterday said that in observing the day, the natural touch of sorrow was tinged with reassurance, because, knowing how the men of America had responded to the call of liberty in times ago, there was perfect assurance that the new response would "come again in equal measure, with equal majesty."
The President spoke in the natural amphitheater in the cemetery at a meeting arranged by the local Grand Army of the Republic which was attended by thousands.

"The program has conferred an unmerited dignity upon the remarks I am going to make by calling them an address, because I am not here to deliver an address," the President said.
"I am here merely to show in my official capacity the sympathy of this great Government with the object of this occasion and also to speak just a word of the sentiment that is in my own heart."

Their Work Accomplished.
"Any memorial day of this sort, is,
of course, a day touched with sorrowful memory, and yet I, for one, do not see how we can have any thought of pity for the men whose memory we honor today. I do not pity them.
I envy them rather, because theirs is a great work for liberty accomplished, and we are in the midst of a work unfinished, testing our strength where their strength has already been tested."

"There is a touch of sorrow, but there is a touch of reassurance also in a day like this, because we know how the men of America have responded to the call of the cause of liberty and it fills our mind with a perfect assurance that that response will come again in equal measure, with equal majesty, and with a result which will hold the attention of all mankind."

"When you reflect upon it, these men who died to preserve the union died to preserve the instrument which we are now using to serve the world—a free nation espousing the cause of human liberty. In one sense the great struggle into which we have now entered is an American struggle, because it is in the sense of American honor and American rights, but it is something even greater than that; it is a world struggle. It is a struggle of men who love liberty everywhere and in this cause America will show herself greater than ever because she will rise to a greater thing."

Not a Selfish Liberty.
"We have said in the beginning that we planned this great Government that men who wish freedom might have a place of refuge and a place where their hope could be realized and now, having established such a Government, having vindicated the power of such a Government, we are saying to all mankind: 'We did not set this Government up in order that we might have a selfish and separate liberty, for we are now ready to come to your assistance and fight on the fields of the world the cause of human liberty.' In this thing America attains her full dignity and the full fruition of her great purpose."

"No man can be glad that such things have happened as we have witnessed in these last fateful years, but perhaps it may be permitted to us to be glad that we have an opportunity to show the principles that we profess to be living principles that live in our hearts, and to have a chance by the pouring out of our blood and treasure to vindicate the things which we have promised. For, my friends, real fruition of life is to do the things we have said we wished to do. There are times when words seem empty and only actions seem great.
Such a time has come and in the providence of God, America will once more have an opportunity to show to the world that she was born to serve mankind."

MORE TIME FOR GETTING PERMITS FOR BARRED ZONES

Applications of Enemy Aliens
Will Be Accepted Until June 9—Previous Limit June 1.

SHORTAGE OF BLANKS

Not Half Number Needed Here
Were on Hand—Extension Country-Wide.

The time limit set for enemy aliens to obtain permits to live in or traverse zones barred to them was extended today from Saturday midnight to June 9 at 7 p. m. United States Marshal Lynch received a telegram from Attorney-General Gregory authorizing the extension.

The action has been made necessary because of a lack of application blanks for permits. The message sent to Marshal Lynch was sent to other cities throughout the United States and the time extension will be country-wide.
Up to the opening of the Marshal's office this morning, 408 applications for barred zone permits had been filed and many hundred more were waiting to file theirs. Blanks to be filled out had been mailed to 174 persons when the supply ran out. The Marshal wired to Washington Tuesday for more blanks. He expects them during the day.

Marshal Lynch said many of those who had applied have done so under a misapprehension. A large number of them, though born in Germany, are naturalized citizens and require no permits.
Also several Bulgarians and Austrians have applied for permits on the assumption that as natives of countries allied with Germany they would be required to get permits.

It is estimated that about 3500 permits to enemy aliens here will be issued before June 9.
About 1000 enemy aliens went to the Marshal's office today to submit the application forms which they had filled out. After examining the forms Chief Deputy Marshal George Lynch took the applicants in relays of about 150 to the Court of Appeals room, where he announced to them that only about 10 per cent of the forms had been correctly filled out and this would make it necessary to fill out new ones.

Most of the applicants made the mistake of asking permission to enter all the "barred zones." Lynch in his talk to them today made it clear that each applicant must ask for permission to enter only the zone in which he lives, the one in which he works and the zones which it is necessary for him to pass through when going from his home to his work by the most direct route.

Although the Marshal's office was officially closed yesterday, Memorial day, more than 100 applicants for permits waited in the corridors at the usual opening hour.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

No Lodge Club at Barracks.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
I see by a morning paper that my Masonic brothers are thinking of a clubhouse at the Barracks. Now I hope they will not attempt such a scheme. Are not the Barracks really or practically a government reservation? Then if our brothers make such a move, will brother: Jews, Lutherans, Catholics, Methodists, Knights of Columbus and other associations will want to do a like venture.

No, brothers, the world outside the Barracks is big enough to give us room and good work.
JOHN J. HARMON.

A Universal Holiday June 5.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
May I ask how our politicians, our supposed patriots, figure that closing the public schools on June 5 is going to honor our recently our American boys who will register on that day?

It seems to me the proper way to show them the honor due them is to have all our citizens turn out in a great demonstrative mass meeting, not only the little school-boys, two-thirds of whom are too young to have a very clear conception of what it is all about.

The majority of boys who are within the conscription age are working right down town in offices, factories, department stores and all other places of business. The very least we can do to show our gratitude for the great sacrifice they are making for your cause and my cause and our country's cause, is to give them a holiday.

A PATRIOT.

Parade Route Too Short.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

I was greatly surprised to read the proposed route of the float parade of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World. It appears to me that this parade route is a confession on the part of the ad men that their parade—50 floats, count 'em 50—are only half the attraction of the 20 Veiled Prophet floats. It is well known that the downtown section is congested to see the Prophet, after the thousands see the parade on the Grand avenue route. The ad men cut off this part of the route. Evidently St. Louis has paid an enormous sum to organize spectacles for a few reserved seat holders. I thought ad men were bold, self-confident individuals who trod in unexplored fields.

SPECTATOR.

Freedom of the Press.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

The press may have many sins to answer for but with its rays darkened there can be no real progress either in war or peace, democracy would be impossible in America, or anywhere else, if the press were afraid to speak its mind and to expose the abuses in which democracy is peculiarly subject. There will always be honest and fearless criticism by the public press of abuses, misdeeds and evil, if evil exists, law or no law. The true, loyal and patriotic enlightened American press can always be trusted to make "democracy safe" in America and elsewhere throughout the world. Mark what I say.

GEORGE A. RITTER.

The German Spy System Here.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

It is very reasonable to suppose that German and Austrian spy systems exist in the United States, since we have so many natives of these countries among us. The public utterances of our Congressmen are such that when reprinted in German they would lead the German people to believe that we are hopelessly divided. Again the needless days at our leading hotels are all intended by the St. Louis German spy association for German reading in German. The German Chancellor's statement that after we declared war they would overcome it, was made the idea that our Congress might talk, but not act and the spy system is to control the army, navy and Congress.

ABRAHAM REINHOLZ.

Clean Up Vacant Buildings.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

We have noticed long articles in the various papers regarding the coming Advertising Men's Convention calling upon business houses to clean up and put their best foot forward. We notice considerable good work is being done along this line and would suggest that a campaign be put on to get the real estate people to remove the "For Rent" and "For Sale" signs from the buildings and wash up the windows if nothing more. The advertising men are "live wires" and a trip unguarded on the Olive street car or the other lines would lead them to believe "the town was upstairs over a vacant lot."

This is a tip from a visitor and would say from the number of signs we have noticed one would think that there must be an epidemic of smallpox or something in town and that all the good citizens had left.

REED ON FOOD CONTROL.

A careful reading of Senator Reed's complete speech as published in the Record justifies the Post-Dispatch's condemnation of certain parts and its commendation of others.

The general trend of the speech was a thinly disguised, but caustic criticism of the food-control proposal and of the men who are at the head of the food-control movement. Most of Senator Reed's statements were true but irrelevant and misapplied. Some of them were gross misrepresentations of the well-defined objects and methods of food control. Either the Senator wholly misunderstood the standpoint of the President and Mr. Hoover or he unfairly interpreted their purposes.

In so far as he opposed reasonable food control as a means of conserving food supplies, seeing that they are well distributed and preventing market manipulation and unfair price boosting, the Senator was wholly wrong.

In so far as he represented the movement as designed to interfere with and hamper production and commerce he was wrong. Many of the things he bitterly assailed are not in the contemplation of either the President or Mr. Hoover.

On the other hand, in so far as he protested against panic utterances, unreasonable and dangerous interference with production and business and destructive rulings, which would disrupt and depress business, and urged stimulation of productive and commercial energies and agencies, he was right. Mr. Hoover's utterances are wholly in line with this policy.

Information offered by Senator Reed which he said indicated that the high prices of grain were not due wholly to speculation was in effect a conclusive argument for food control. He offered the statement of a grain dealer to the effect that the tremendous rise in wheat options were due to purchases made for future deliveries by agents of foreign Governments. He stated that from 100,000,000 to 150,000,000 bushels of grain were contracted for by foreign agents having practically unlimited funds and acting under instructions to meet the needs of the Governments they represent.

This vast amount of grain under contract for delivery in May and far exceeding the visible supply available in the market caused a practical corner of wheat and forced prices to a very high point.

No charge is made that the agents of foreign Governments intended to corner wheat. Of course, they profited by exchanging May at a very high price for July and September options. The very fact that this practical corner existed was known to big grain men and greatly stimulated speculation.

The situation as explained by Senator Reed tends to create unwholesome conditions, to stimulate speculation and boost prices far beyond the normal figures. All grains are affected by the price of wheat and flour follows the market.

The high prices, therefore, in May, accepting the Senator's statement, was not due to actual shortage of grain, but to market conditions. Similar conditions might arise when, with abundance of food, the people might suffer the greatest hardships.

The avoidance of such conditions is one of the principal points and the chief argument in favor of food control. Mr. Hoover has pointed out the danger arising from free bidding and competition by the nations in the grain markets. He properly views the question from a world standpoint. He sees what Senator Reed and other objectors do not seem to see, that the conditions of our allies in Europe are our conditions, and that if we do not co-operate with them in control of market conditions and food distribution we may suffer and even starve with them. Without reasonable control, all will suffer from abnormal high prices, the profits of which will go to manipulators and speculators.

From the description of the territory in which the Italians are conducting their offensive it appears that Vimy Ridge would be regarded as a depression there.

DEATH RIOT TREASON.

The Department of Justice has acted swiftly and shrewdly in dealing with the anti-conscription conspiracies and shown the same kind of energy that it displayed in rounding up the leaders of the German conspiracies at the beginning of the war.

As a result of its activities in the latter instance there were no German uprisings and no violence of any sort. It is safe to assume that there will be little violence next Tuesday, now that the long arm of the United States Government has seized hold of the men who were instigating a treasonable resistance to the draft law.

What part the German propaganda has played in the plans for organized resistance to conscription remains to be seen, but it is of little consequence whether the riots were plotted by German agents or pro-German Socialists or the stormy petrels of the I. W. W. The thing to do is to squelch the conspiracy at the outset and the ring-leaders deserve far heavier punishment than any of their deluded victims who may try to defy the powers of the Government on June 5.

In his answer to the resolutions of the Albany meeting which protested against the arrest of Clement L. Vallandigham, Lincoln asked: "Must I shoot a simple-minded soldier boy who deserts, while I must not touch the head of the wily agitator who induces him to desert?"

President Wilson could well ask a similar question of the apologists for the instigators of these draft riots. Must he punish boys who resist conscription and give immunity to the traitors who induced them to resist?

There is nothing that could give more satisfaction to the German Government or that would have a more stimulating public influence in Germany than knowledge that there was widespread and forcible opposition throughout the United States to the enforcement of the conscription law. Men who are responsible for organizing and directing such opposition are guilty of treason. No other crime fits their case, and they should be dealt with accordingly.

Attorney-General Gregory said yesterday that the arrests already made "should be accepted by the country generally as a warning against interfering with the enforcement of the new army law." That is a piece of good advice that cannot be taken too quickly to heart by every person subject to the act. The law will be enforced, and resistance is not only futile, but it will be attended with drastic penalties.

THE LAST FREE NEUTRAL.

The recent anti-German demonstration in Madrid in which 25,000 persons participated and the sinking of the Spanish passenger steamer C. de Elzaguire, with a loss of more than 100 lives, brings near to an end that precious neutrality which Berlin has striven so hard to maintain.

The straining efforts of the Wilhelmstrasse strategists to keep Spain from joining the entente can best be understood by a casual study of the map. Spain is the last of the free neutrals. Switzerland, Holland, Denmark and Scandinavia are neutral perforce. Belgium and Rumania are too fresh in their minds. But Spain is not obsessed by fear of a German invasion and the destruction that goes with it.

The neutrality of Spain is something to which the German press has been pointing with pride. Here was a great country, commercially harassed by the allies, surrounded by them on all sides, which was still neutral to the Teutons. Speaking of neutrals in the Reichstag a few weeks ago, Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg had this to say about Spain:

"... I am thinking in this connection of Spain, which loyal to her noble traditions is endeavoring under great difficulties to preserve her independent policy of neutrality. We thankfully recognize this attitude and have only one wish—that the Spanish people reap the reward of their strong independent policy by further developing their power."

There is almost a promise here of German help to extend the territories of Alfonso; so much is Berlin interested in keeping that kingdom neutral. There are strong political reasons back of this attitude.

As long as Spain is neutral, there is always a probability that she might be lined up on the side of the central empires, a contingency which would spell disaster to Portugal, one of the allies, and imperil the British hold on Gibraltar and the French possessions in North Africa.

With the neutrality of Spain lost, Germany may truthfully say that the whole world is against her. Berlin knows full well that the neutrality of Holland and the Scandinavian countries will last only as long as German power to destroy.

POLITICS AND THE "SLUSH FUND."

Post-Dispatch reporters discover evidence that formidable political influences are being employed to check the inquiry into the police salary grab scandal and render it fruitless.

Attempts of this sort were, of course, to be expected. Politicians are the ones being jeopardized. It is promised that if all goes well with the inquiry sinister phases of the entire system by which legislative action is controlled will be disclosed. Insistent and ingenious efforts to prevent persons having a knowledge of the facts from testifying will naturally be made. The rewards and penalties which invisible government can bestow and inflict will be held up before those whose special duty it is to sustain the law.

But resources exist that may be opposed to the intrigues of wrongdoers. The organized forces of the law are stronger than anything discredited and desperate politicians can improvise for their own protection. The Police Department is invested with tremendous powers for use in just such a contingency. And the police, brought under reproach by the scandal, have a special motive for vigorous, intelligent action.

Prosecuting officers, police, all those charged with the vindication of the law, are afforded an opportunity to render a service of a distinguished kind and their effectiveness and adequacy to the demand will be held under close observation by the public.

The new machine gun equipment of American regiments will permit them to fire 36,600 shots a minute which is about as many as were fired in a good sized battle some decades ago.

KHAKI VS. FAUNTILEROTY SUITS.

All native American young men of the ages subject to the selective draft were born in the years when "Little Lord Fauntleroy" was exerting its most malign influence on the American parent.

Perhaps there never was a work so calculated to upset sturdy republican ideas and introduce a certain sort of effeminacy into the bringing up of American boys as this little book by an Englishwoman who did not come to this country until her 18th year. It was published 31 years ago, when the oldest of those liable to be drafted were 13 months old. It obtained its greatest vogue about 10 years later, or the time when the youngest of the draft liabilities were born.

That it had a remarkable appeal for certain persons of dilute Americanism was shown by the absurd popularity of the book and of the play made from it. Hundreds of thousands read the one or saw the other. Fond mamma was led to wish most devoutly that their little boy or little boys were young lords in disguise. Discovering from examination of the family tree that this wish was hopeless, they were seized with a misguided ambition to bring their unfortunate lads up just as if they were little lords in disguise.

Lord Fauntleroy suits, in which no normal, healthy American boy ought ever to have been compelled to increase his form, were much affected and reached their most ethereal design in garments of black velvet supplemented with wide linen collars. To these suits in which they were but slightly distinguished from their sisters, some unhappy, long-legged lads were condemned by romantic mamma until 13 or 14 years old and even older. Worse still, they were expected to live up to the suits in their conduct with other lads.

It is complained that the young men of the present are disappointing as a whole. This may be due only to the usual fault-finding attitude of an elder toward a younger generation. But so far as it is well founded, it may be attributed in no small degree to the false Fauntleroy standards. Who can imagine a young man brought up as a boy under the little lord influences rushing madly to volunteer? But the draft will make men of them before it is too late. The khaki can neutralize the Fauntleroy suit and neutralize it most effectually.

PANETELA.

O, Luella, Independence
Has not gotten On so far
But a body
Sometimes fancies
Hearing laughter
By the czar.
Though they say
He hoos potatoes,
And has just
His garden tract,
He has still
His sense of humor
Providentially intact.

Man is man,

My little girlie,
Whether peasant
Or a king,
And his sources
Of amusement
Are the same Unfailing spring.

Though his lot Withal is sad,
Smiles a smile at times
That might of Driven Leonardo mad.

It is just

A bit presumptive
To suppose They'll call him back.
But the prospects
Of the nation Are becoming Mighty black.
Stranger things,
My dear, have happened
In the world,
At any rate,
And the czar
Could not do better
For the time
Than watch and wait.

He recalls

The situation,
Like as not,
The while he reigned—
How the nation
Fought the Germans.
And the order
That obtained.
Then they all Stood up for Russia
When the Hun
Was at the gate,
And they had A lot to do then
More than merely
To debate.

The weather continues about what it has been ever since the Democrats came into power. It probably explains why there were for so long out of power. After all, the weather exceeds in importance any of the economic issues upon which governments succeed one another in this country. It is a tragedy that the Democrats, who have proven themselves true to republican government, can do nothing with the weather; while the Republicans, who are true only to a few greedy interests, can operate it beautifully. These are the things that discourage hope. Think of the Taft and the Wilson administrations, and the weather we have had under each, if you want to despair.

Since the Kansas editor remarked that Mark Twain's autobiography, which had been running in the North American Review, was shortly to be made public, one has not thought much of the heavier magazines circulating in that State; but we find this in the Emporia Times: "It remained for the serious-minded Century Magazine to set forth the startling fact that our bodies are far below the tested standard of efficiency for the purposes they are to serve. Being originated at a time when efficiency standards, to which all modern business houses adhere, were unknown, and when efficiency experts were scarce, it is really a wonder that we worry along as well as we do."

There are 40 men in the Russian Commission now on its way to the United States. The number is probably designed to give some idea of the population. One of our two-story-browed readers says the Kaiser is hostis humani generis. And he has other faults.

One of our sign hunters thinks this one deserves a place in the sun. He found it on a barrel in front of a tailor shop at Sixteenth and Market streets:

Step inside while I press your pants.

ANSWERS TO QUESTIONS.

DATE.

MISS LONELY. — Belleville, Ill., June 1, 1917.
CONRAD. — We have no Priestess balloon "exact date."

ETIQUETTE.

CONSTANT. — Gentleman is introduced to a lady.

R. B. K. — The fast and set rules for mourning are gradually becoming obsolete, and many writers express the opinion that mourning should not be in the past, but in the heart and mind.

JOSEPHINE. — Fashion has settled the question of whether or not jewelry should be worn by those in mourning. Her decision is in favor of it, but it must be modest jewelry—simple in style and design. A plain collar with just a white line at the neck is often quite severe, and in that it is advisable to add a small pin or brooch. The round beads of dull jet and metal which were at one time so much in vogue are far prettier than the large beads of small, flat pieces of dull jet held together with tiny links of gummy forming a collar that is not only very distinctive. Dainty charms and pendants attached are also worn and will be preferred by the woman who the dog collar unsuited to her own personality. These chains are often of dull jet flowers held together with black jet that suggest twining flower stems. A pendant is sometimes a flower, large size and quite often some bit of artistic carved jet in dangle form. After the black collar has been discarded, the white crepe may be substituted. Color ornaments, with narrow, wide, and tiny diamond-shaped insets of crepe. Such a collar makes an attractive finish to a plain mourning dress. When worn with a jabot of white crepe bordered with black crepe. This jabot is fastened to the collar by buttons of dull black jet with ball ends. The collar that completes this smart accessory is ornamented in the same manner as the collar.

HEALTH HINTS.

ARCH. — Eating small quantities of yeast will not stimulate growth, and is wise diet.

READER. — Peanut butter is wholesome food, and you need not fear to eat it. An excess of fat is inadvisable.

LILLY. — There are many kinds of skin treatment. The best is the one that is least. At the clinics doctors treat patients according to their own judgment of the treatment best. They use electricity where indicated.

READER. — Vanderbilts clinic says that the best method of treating babies is to weigh more than those artificially fed after the artificially fed gain less weight. More than 200 babies of the clinic are convinced that the best food is barley or oatmeal water or top milk. These are useless except in extreme cases. In feeding healthy babies, it is usually begun by diluting the milk with water. Third, the volume of water added is given is increased by one ounce every two weeks and the strength of the mixture increased as the condition of the baby indicates. Infants can usually take milk when they are from 4 to 7 months old. No baby should receive more than a quart of milk a day until it is a year old. When it stops gaining weight, it is usually a sign that it is getting too fat. If it is substituted for part of the sugar and later cereals in the form of gruel are added. At a month, it is usually ready for broths and swissback and sometimes for finely mashed vegetables. The best to use sugar in the form of maltose preparation, a level teaspoon every 10 ounces of milk and water, should not be given to babies less than months old, to those with a tendency to constipation or vomiting.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS.

M. O. L. — Dyeing fur: Wash the fur from grease with soap and water, to a half teaspoon of lye has been added. Dry and dye with any fast-color dye.

G. M. M. — Paste that keeps: Wet one pound of flour with cold water to thick, smooth paste. Have ready on the fire a quart of boiling water. Add this gradually, stirring and beating all the while. The mixture is of consistency of thick cream. Set over the fire and cook 15 minutes, stirring to prevent lumping, adding water should it stiffen too much. When from fire and when it is cold, add a spoonful of carbollic acid and half a pint of oil of cloves. Add a lump of butter the size of a pigeon's egg to the water.

SHERMAN'S DOTS

CLIP AND SAVE FOR YOUR SIGNAL BOOK.

By Clifford Leon Sherman.
THE soldier said he wanted all of the girls to learn the signal code, as well as the boys, because they would find it lots more interesting than the telephone and lots cheaper. He said if you saw a man facing you and holding one flag in his right hand at right angles with his body, and the other flag in front of his body that there was not the least possible doubt but that he was sending you the letter "B" or the numeral "2." "Why," he said, "there won't be any fun in going camping this summer at all if you don't know how to wig-wag."

My Husband and How I Helped Him

HER IDEAS BROUGHT IN BUSINESS.
HERMAN was a grocery clerk when I married him, but the wages were so low and the chances of promotion seemed so far away that when he inherited a little money from his father he decided to open a delicatessen store. I was a little doubtful about this, for I had seen so many failures in the business; he was sure he could succeed, and we started it. We had a nice store in a pretty good neighborhood, but trade was rather slow in the beginning, and at the end of six months we were not much more than making expenses. Herman thought this was doing pretty well for a new store, but it did not satisfy me.

One day I said to him: "We want to find some way of letting people know the nice things we have here and how well they are cooked."

"Well, why don't you go round and tell them?" said he.

Of course, he was only joking, but I set me thinking. Now, I have a friend who has a typewriter, and the next week, just for an experiment, I got her to write out a list of some of the best of our special dishes, with the prices, which we made as low as we possibly could. We had all the usual things, with a few novelties besides, such as home-made potato and tomato soup, which we sold in the thick little pasteboard boxes used for oysters and clams. We had also a new kind of tuna fish salad, with a thick sauce with chopped olives in it that I invented myself, and a lot more dishes that I haven't space to tell you about.

I knew that it would be too expensive to keep all these on hand every day, so I got up a lot of specials for each day. For instance, on Friday I had fish cakes with tomato sauce, and fish salad; on Monday, cold corned beef and boiled cabbage, that only needed warming up to eat as if it were fresh. On Saturdays and Sundays we kept all our specials in stock, besides certain ones. Herman was only joking, but I set me thinking. # Simple, Homemade Devices for Useful Application

Sleeping Car Trousers Hanger.
THE basis of a sleeping car is usually provided with a coat hanger, but if there is a rod on it for trousers there is nothing to keep them from slipping off. By removing two of the curtain hooks, hanging the trousers over the curtain pole, and replacing the hooks over the trousers, a satisfactory hanger is obtained, which will not permit them to slip down, no matter how rough the road.

A Buttonhook Screwdriver.
A SEWING machine screwdriver can be easily made by cutting off the hook end of a button hook with a chisel. Place the cut end upon a piece of iron and with a hammer form it into a screwdriver. The rounded top of the button hook makes it convenient to handle or hang up.

To Raise Height of Chairs.
FOUR wooden door bumpers, of the rubber-tipped knob type, fastened to the lower ends of the legs of one of the kitchen chairs, make an almost indispensable high chair, which will bring the table work to a more comfortable height than the ordinary chair does. The young child also will appreciate such a chair at the dining table. When it is no longer needed, the knobs can be unscrewed quickly.

Homemade Fountain Pen.
AN ordinary penholder and pen point may be easily converted into a fountain pen, with the aid of a brass paper clip of the kind shown. The cap is pried off and the prongs straightened. One of the prongs is cut to suitable length, and the end bent. It is then inserted in the penholder, and adjusted to 3/4 inch from the end of the pen point. The ink is placed between the bent clip and pen point, from where it feeds evenly as needed. This kink is helped when using the heater drawing inks, as well as with writing inks.

Foot Pedals Speed Typing.
BY attaching pedals to the space key and shift key a stenographer in Manila, P. I., increased typewriting speed about 20 words a minute. Two pedals were made fast to the typewriter desk, then stiff wires were run up to the keys, connecting the latter to the wire with rubber bands. The pedals are adjusted so that a light tap operates them. If a light typewriter is used it should be fixed to the desk. The wires can be unhooked quickly from the typewriter and suspended on hooks under the edge of the desk.

About Velvet.
FEW persons realize that velvet was developed and originated in China. Thence velvet making was introduced into India and, in the fourteenth century, into Italy, where "tort" sort of fabric especially appealed and where the art of velvet making reached its height. It is said that velvet was first inspired by fur and that it was in order to make a silken fabric on the same order as fine fur that man first set his wife about to invent this.

How We Came to Wear Hats

COVERING for the head dates back to early times, but the hat, as we understand it today, was invented by a Swiss manufacturer of hats in Paris, and the first hats were worn in that city about 1600. The inhabitants of the Northern climes many centuries ago began wearing a head covering; which in those days was usually made of fur. This was in most cases in the form of a hood.

It was not until the Phrygians had conquered Asia Minor that the people of warmer latitudes wore head coverings. The Phrygians were the first to adopt the fashion, and they did it in order to distinguish themselves from the conquered race with whom they lived. Their head dress was a small, closely fitting cap, which was also adopted by the Roman free citizens.

Hats were first manufactured in England in 1510, and superseded caps or soft headgear, in the reign of Queen Elizabeth. The Hungarian patriot Kosuth introduced into the United States the soft felt hat. Straw hats began to be worn in America about 1800, the first importations being of the palm leaf variety. The history of hat making in the United States dates back to Colonial days. In 1662 the Assembly of Virginia enacted a law offering 10 pounds of tobacco for every good wool or fur hat made in the colony.

Foolishness.
MY wife can't stand my pipe at all. When'er I smoke I get a "call." She says I have no right to fill the house with fumes that make her ill. The grate was needing coal last night. The bin is down the stairs one flight. "Your pipe can bring some up," said she. "It's strong enough, you must agree."

HAND GRENADES HURLED BY VILLA FORCE TAKING OJINAGA

Bandits Hold Border Port Opposite Presidio, Tex., United States Troops Patrol Border.
PRESIDIO, Tex., May 31.—Villa bandits are holding a border port opposite an American town and again United States troops are patrolling the border. At 3 o'clock yesterday morning approximately 200 Villa followers dashed into Ojinaga, opposite here. Only a handful of Mexican Government forces occupied the town. Gen. G. Figueroa, Gen. Garcia and Col. Riojas having gone out Sunday night to engage the Villa command then encamped in La Mula Pass, 35 miles south of the border.

Fifty of the Government force of 75 men left in Ojinaga escaped across the river to Presidio. Women and children followed, carrying babies and bundles. Of the 25 Government soldiers remaining 18 were killed. The fight lasted two hours, after which shops and homes were looted.

Refugees who crossed from Ojinaga say the Villa forces began the attack by hurling hand grenades into the houses.

Burglars Chased From Store.
Policemen fired about 20 shots at two burglars who were caught looting the store of Lipschitz & Barack Shoe Co., 1319 Washington avenue, at 3:45 o'clock this morning. The burglars escaped. The police took charge of a wagon and horse in front of the store. Five cases of shoes had been loaded into the wagon.

MISS CLIFFORD TO BE MARRIED JUNE 30

Engagement to Truman Post Young Is Announced at a Tea.

ADDED to the unusually large number of engagements of social importance here announced just now is that of Miss Katherine Berthoud Clifford to Truman Post Young, which was formally announced this afternoon by Mrs. Robert H. Clifford, mother of the bride-elect.

The news was told at a tea given in honor of Miss Katherine Clifford of New York, who is visiting Miss Clifford.

The marriage will take place June 30, but owing to the recent death of Mr. Young's father, Daniel C. Young, will be a quiet affair, at the home of the bride, 445 West Pine boulevard.

Miss Clifford was graduated from Mary Institute in 1914 with highest honors of her class. She made her debut the following autumn and has been exceedingly popular.

Her mother, who was Miss Nannie Berthoud, is a member of the family of that name, which has resided in St. Louis for more than a hundred years. The late Mr. Clifford was an Englishman.

Mr. Young is a graduate of Yale in the class of '09, and is the brother of Dr. Henry McClure Young. He is a member of the University Club and resides at the Buckingham Annex.

The marriage of Miss Helen Beatrice Bryars to John Dudley Kincaid, formerly of Kansas City, will take place Saturday morning at 11 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bryars of 5024 Raymond avenue.

The Rev. Arthur L. Odell of Kings highway Presbyterian Church will officiate and only the members of the immediate family will be present.

Miss Mildred Bryars, the bride's sister, will arrive tomorrow from New York, where she has been studying singing.

Mr. Kincaid is the son of Mr. and Mrs. G. P. Kincaid of Kansas City.

A luncheon was given today at the St. Louis Country Club in honor of the women golf players who have come from Kansas City and St. Joseph to play in the tournament being held this week on the Westwood Country Club links.

Mrs. Sterling E. Edmunds was the hostess and among the guests were Mrs. Seth Serah, E. D. Ellison, David Green, David Thornton, all of Kansas City, and Mrs. David Burston, formerly of St. Louis, now of Southwest Missouri, and Mrs. T. F. Lennon of Joplin.

Yesterday afternoon the visitors were the guests of the Anconquin Golf Club and Mrs. Fred Plant of Webster Groves was hostess.

Mrs. Louis Barklage of 4185 Kingsbury boulevard gave a tea this afternoon in honor of her niece, Miss Mildred Petting, who is a member of the senior class at Mary Institute.

The girls who were in the receiving line were Misses Marie Stifel, Emma Petting and Augusta Erker. Miss Irene Smith, president of the class, who was to have received with Mrs. Barklage, has been ill and was not well enough to attend. It was feared she had typhoid fever, but she is recovering.

The house was decorated with pink peonies and daisies. The table had a miniature fountain in the center surrounded by pink roses, sweet peas and daisies.

The girls who served were Misses Elizabeth Bradshaw, Agnes Nelson, Elizabeth Nulsen, Katherine Sheu, Esther Bernst, Adele Biebling and Lucille Pearson.

Mrs. Nat S. Brown will be hostess at a small tea at her home, 624 Washington boulevard, Saturday afternoon. The guests at which will be the members of her committee, who will assist her in the sale of score cards at the benefit ball game for the Tuberculosis Society, June 8. Thirty girls and young matrons will be present. Among them will be Misses C. O. The marriage of Miss Helen Beatrice Bryars to John Dudley Kincaid, formerly of Kansas City, will take place Saturday morning at 11 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bryars of 5024 Raymond avenue.

The Rev. Arthur L. Odell of Kings highway Presbyterian Church will officiate and only the members of the immediate family will be present.

Mr. Kincaid is the son of Mr. and Mrs. G. P. Kincaid of Kansas City.

A luncheon was given today at the St. Louis Country Club in honor of the women golf players who have come from Kansas City and St. Joseph to play in the tournament being held this week on the Westwood Country Club links.

Mrs. Sterling E. Edmunds was the hostess and among the guests were Mrs. Seth Serah, E. D. Ellison, David Green, David Thornton, all of Kansas City, and Mrs. David Burston, formerly of St. Louis, now of Southwest Missouri, and Mrs. T. F. Lennon of Joplin.

Yesterday afternoon the visitors were the guests of the Anconquin Golf Club and Mrs. Fred Plant of Webster Groves was hostess.

Mrs. Louis Barklage of 4185 Kingsbury boulevard gave a tea this afternoon in honor of her niece, Miss Mildred Petting, who is a member of the senior class at Mary Institute.

The girls who were in the receiving line were Misses Marie Stifel, Emma Petting and Augusta Erker. Miss Irene Smith, president of the class, who was to have received with Mrs. Barklage, has been ill and was not well enough to attend. It was feared she had typhoid fever, but she is recovering.

The house was decorated with pink peonies and daisies. The table had a miniature fountain in the center surrounded by pink roses, sweet peas and daisies.

The girls who served were Misses Elizabeth Bradshaw, Agnes Nelson, Elizabeth Nulsen, Katherine Sheu, Esther Bernst, Adele Biebling and Lucille Pearson.

Mrs. Nat S. Brown will be hostess at a small tea at her home, 624 Washington boulevard, Saturday afternoon. ## Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey

In emergencies requiring immediate relief rarely ever fails in efficacy, for it is commonly employed as a medicine in all cases. It is dependable because its quality never varies; it is pure because it is made from the finest of grains thoroughly malted—thereby removing all deleterious elements. A tablespoonful in equal amounts of water or milk before meals and on retiring assists digestion and invariably gives the system strength and power to throw off and resist the germs of disease. Especially at this time of year when coughs, colds and grip are prevalent, Duffy's should be available in the family medicine chest. Resolve today to join the army of thousands who are secure in health because they

WHY SOCIETY WOMEN WASH THEIR OWN HAIR

They do, not because it is a fad, but because they wish to obtain the greatest possible hair beauty and be sure they are not using anything harmful. They have found that in washing the hair it is never wise to use a makeshift, but is always advisable to use a preparation made for shampooing only. Many of our friends say they get the best results from a simple homemade canthrox mixture. You can use this at a cost of about three cents a shampoo by getting some canthrox from your druggist, and dissolving a teaspoonful in a cup of hot water. This makes enough shampoo liquid to apply to all the hair instead of just the top of the head, as with most preparations. Dandruff, excess oil and dirt are dissolved and entirely disappear in the rinsing water. Your hair will be so fluffy that it will look much heavier than it is. Its luster and softness will also delight you.

ANTI-FAT

Art thou stout and getting stouter? Stop repining—cease to moan; Hie thee to the nearest drug store—Ask for "Tablets Arbolone."

Arbolone will stop that craving. Make the normal—that's well known. Thou'lt forget that hungry feeling After taking Arbolone.

And the pounds away will dwindle—Wait no longer like a slave; Make the normal—that's well known. Thou'lt forget that hungry feeling After taking Arbolone.

NOTE—This little poem was written by a literary woman of Los Angeles, Calif., as a testimonial to Tablets Arbolone. It so aptly and truthfully describes the virtues of this well-known anti-fat that the proprietors use it for advertising. Facts and gratitude are both expressed with admirable rhythm and metre. For sale by Wolff-Willson and all other druggists.

A Golfing Paradox: According to the Rules, You Can't Halve a Hole and Have It

Algonquin Links Navigable for State Tourney Golfers

Players, However, in Making the Circuit, Require Many Strokes, Trudgeon and Crawl Having the Preference—Course Aquatics Expected to Be Better Today.

By W. J. O'Connor.

War, golf and a circus know no weather. Neither does a duck, for that matter, and any old, web-footed duck could have played as much golf as many of the men in the second round of the State Championship Tournament at Algonquin yesterday afternoon.

There were codices, aye puddles, of water around every hole but the nine-tenth. The wise guys took their straight, at the finish. But they all played. A few said they liked it and the others also were loath to admit that they didn't. They played with umbrellas, slickers, hats and such and courted as were available, through a driving rain that made every fairway a "lake hole."

But more astonishing still was the fact that a good-sized gallery swam around in the wake of the players. These hard-boiled devotees of the ancient and honorable game relied mostly on a trudgeon stroke, although some used a "crawl" to navigate the larger bodies of water. But they stuck to the bitter end, and just to rub it in, Messrs. Manion and Wolf carried their battle to the nine-tenth green where the gallery got more water instead of a little scotch and soda.

"Wise Money" on a Loser.

This match, by the way, was the keenest of the afternoon and proved somewhat of a surprise because the "wise" money was on Wolf. However, Manion wouldn't be denied, and although he lost an early lead he rallied in the way home, squared the match on No. 15, halved the next three and won No. 19 by perfect shooting.

There was still another extra-hole match in which Griff McRee defeated Bill Huxley, 1 up in 20 holes, but just for that Griff will have to play Chris Kenney today. Bixby should bibble!

Despite the discouraging conditions under which the tournament was being conducted, the ultimate result of almost every match. The defeat of Arthur Stokney by Lawson Watts, 5 up and 5, was no surprise, unless the smart scribes wondered at the one-sidedness of the score.

Watts figured to win and he must be reckoned with in the ultimate disposition of the title.

Harry Potter was given a scare by E. M. Cain of Algonquin, who had the bulge, 3 up at the turn, but Potter's "tournament temperament," which is often spoken of as "the old man's," played wonderful golf, despite the obvious handicaps on the homeward journey, negotiating three holes in par. This was deemed sensational shooting by those who haven't seen Potter toe the scratch in other such emergencies.

Favorites All Win.

Two More Big Tourneys to Be Held in June

A BUSY schedule has been mapped out for local golfers. The city championship tournament will be held a week hence at the Country Club, while on June 10 the Transmississippi tournament will take place at St. Joseph.

There are matches of unusual promise scheduled for this afternoon. Lawson Watts will tackle Jimmy Manion, who No. 19 by perfect shooting.

Today's pairings: Hoyte, the winners being Kenney, Stuart, Stokney, R. E. Lord and E. F. Smith. For the third round today, Triple A. For three of the eight players—Kenney, Watts and Smith—while Country Club has a like number—Potter, Stuart, Stokney and McRee. Manion represents Kirkwood and Lord is the sole reliance of Algonquin.

WEATHER MAN FAILS TO HALT WOMEN'S TOURNEY

Participants in State Tournament Play Under Most Discouraging Conditions.

Only one match in the second round of the women's state golf championship went by default yesterday afternoon, despite most discouraging weather conditions. The start was delayed until noon in the hope that the weather man would relent, but when he declined the women began splashing their way around the links.

Nearly all the matches ran to form, although Mrs. E. Lansing Ray found surprising strength in Mrs. Howard Kohler's game and this match was not decided until the extra holes were played. Mrs. Ray winning on the twentieth green.

Mrs. Sterling Edmunds was 4 down to Miss Emily Beck at the twelfth green, but rallied there and won four of the next five, squaring the match on the last hole. Going to No. 19, Miss Beck sliced her drive while Mrs. Edmunds was "straight ahead," winning with comparative ease.

A good match is promised today, when Mrs. Edmunds meets Miss Grace Semple, who is favored for the title this year. Miss Semple won the State cup in 1915, but didn't defend her honors in 1916. Today's pairings:

Miss Grace Semple vs. Mrs. Sterling Edmunds.
Mrs. L. P. Aloe vs. Mrs. E. E. Sullivan.
Mrs. John H. Douglas vs. Mrs. E. L. Lanning.
Mrs. N. P. Rood vs. Mrs. A. N. Edwards.

BAN PLACED ON THREE MUNICIPAL ATHLETES

Three players of Municipal Athletic Association baseball teams were suspended today by the Executive Council and three others, who had been under suspension, were reinstated. All had been charged with betting and nagging umpires.

The suspended athletes were: Herbert Rackway, Triple A team, two weeks; First Baseman Brandy of the Coffey team, three weeks; Abel Harris of the Harris Baseball Club, two weeks. Those reinstated were: Herbert Hays, Wagner team; Roy Mauser, Catholic Knights of America; and Harry Uland of the Wolf team.

The club was suspended as a body nearly two years ago and has been under suspension since. Three members were individually restored to good standing. The M. A. A. has stated that all members of the team who acknowledge their mistakes and apologize in writing will be reinstated.

Royal vs. Rock Springs, Forest Park diamond No. 6. Umpires, Plar and Zimmerman.

WRAY'S COLUMN

The Newest Big Gun.

THE National League championship this year will be won by neither the Giants nor the Phils—primarily. It will be won by either Schupp or by Alexander, on the same principle that, in the beginning of the great war, the forts of Liege were won not by the Germans, but by a 42-centimeter gun.

The possession of one incomparable weapon, in these days of supermen and super methods, spells success either in war or baseball.

Beyond question, the possession of the big gun Alexander, with his 33 victories last year, kept the Phils in the pennant hunt. No other single factor of equal importance existed in the National League last season.

This year it is different—there is Schupp, now. It is true, Schupp began to shine late last year, but it was too late for the big climax. This year from the start, he is on duty blasting the way toward Pennant Hill for his little army of Giants.

Schupp is the outstanding star in the National League this year. His merit consists not only in games won, but in few runs allowed by opponents. In line with his work late last season, he is consistently checking the enemy on all fronts. He is THE one man able to rival, perhaps surpass, Alexander in the clutch.

If the Giants win the flag they can attribute it to him, rather than to any other one element of the force assembled by John McGraw.

Why Is John McGraw?

AND yet, should the Giants win the flag, Schupp will probably not profit more than $10,000, though John McGraw will receive, in addition to $30,000 salary, a percentage of the profits. That he is a $50,000 person—among the big men of the world, in cash value for special personal service.

Yet there are many who will say, if Schupp should continue his fine play, that he is a splendid finish: "Why should McGraw, rather than Schupp, get the big money?"

The reason is that McGraw had sense enough to see merit in Schupp, the nerve to pay $10,000 for a rookie, and the confidence in his own judgment to retain him through two unsuccessful years of struggling toward the top, helping him, encouraging him.

McGraw is still the biggest force on the playing field of baseball today, even though his power is sometimes exercised in directions that smack of the Middle Ages.

But you can't expect to remake a fighter into a diplomat, when he's 15 years past the conscription limit.

Nothing Miraculous About It.

OW comes Miracle Man Fred Mitchell, who is leading the Cubs out of the wilderness, alleging that he is morally certain that the Phils are "stealing signals." His proof is that some of the Phils batted out of their heads in one or two series, in a spring noted for upsets.

Decades this manifestation of poor taste, Mitchell has been responsible for some ball-batting by his pitchers, new items state.

If this is the miracle stuff that Mitchell used to help the Braves win the 1914 championship, they will have to go back to the original belief that Mitchell was the Miracle Man in question. No great victory was ever won by anything which is all the head and all the arms to.

Rough stuff and complaints are the tactics of a bad loser, not of a winner.

9 STRAIGHT VICTORIES FOR CHAMPION RED SOX

THE Red Sox, leaders in the American League pennant race, are on a rampage. When they downed the Nationals in both games yesterday, making it four victories in two days over Griffith's clan, the men of Harry Chalked up their ninth straight victory. The only thing that even resembles a black mark is an 11-inning tie game with the Browns played last Sunday.

The Sox started on their winning streak in Chicago, winning the final game of the series. They then routed the Browns four in a row and have beaten the Nationals four straight. The scores yesterday were, 4-3 and 3-2. In the second game, Harry started on his young fire. Bader, recently obtained from the International League.

Alas and Alacques!

There was a young fellow named Jacques,

Whose batting became a bit alacques; On the coast he will try To recover his eye And then he expects to come back.

Harry Pollock is a fine guy. Although the beating Freddie Welsh was getting made, him sick, he refused to throw up the sponge.

Eddie Leonard, the minstrel, gave Benny Leonard a check for $1000. That's a big night for the Leonard.

Incidentally, Benny returned the check, which marks him as the ring's most unique character.

Not a Chance.

N the meanwhile Welsh and Pollock claim that Freddie is still the lightweight champion of the world. They couldn't sell their claim for 50 cents in the open market.

Charley Ebbets has dugged up figures to prove that for 20 years the average year has been colder in April than in October. The Squire is working on a long-chained series of playing dominoes on Christmas.

There's no more difference between a rain check and a snow check than there is between a raincoat and an overcoat.

Of course they might start the Hot Stove League season a month later and run it through April.

Now that Benny Leonard—real name Leiner—has brought home the bacon, what's he gonna do with it?

Branch Rickey is trying to get Felsa Groh from Cincinnati. There's no law against trying.

The Post-Dispatch Daily Short Story

The Brink of a Future.

By F. H. Sweet.

BAT PINARD stood on one of the hills that overlooked Dubuque. Behind him was the forest and his past, the little cabin by the river, with his dugout hauled up on the bank, his traps and fishing poles and battered, muzzle-loading rifle. Before him—what? The afternoon sun flung its luminous arms into the city, while the forest behind was becoming dark with its own shadows. The future had come to him in the gold of his evening, but it was the future of his dreams. Already he was forgetting the past.

Of his possessions he had brought only his "feetle" and the letter which a passing trapper had left at his cabin: the one was to go with him into his future, to be "educat, poleesh," the other was the magic key which would open the way.

This had been the one grief of his life, that he was "no educat, no poleesh." Music to him was only a common, natural thing, like breathing, without notes or science. What matter if he could wake the hermit thrush and oriole and bobolink to ecstasy, or bring moisture to the hardest eyes, or lightness to the most sluggish of feet, or gentleness to the heart that had bruised itself to callousness—it was only what came to him naturally, without effort. He was no musician, he would tell you with a deprecatory wave of the hand. "Non, non, m'aisir, not'ing but a poor little Canuck who love de feetle." He had no chance "for learn de true music."

But now it was all here in the letter which he held so tightly in his hand; and though the white frost was stealing thickly into his hair, and rheumatism taking possession of his limbs, he went down the slope as eagerly and confidently as a schoolboy on his first journey into the world of learning.

Only once before in his life had the unexpected come to him, $1000 from the very estate that was responsible for this letter. Half of it had gone promptly as an incentive in a "feetle contest," and little Pierre, who had carried off the popular vote, and so won the prize, was now at a school of music for his "educat, poleesh." Bat's thoughts reverted to him as he went on down the slope and he resolved that some of this greater fortune should flow over into the future of the poor shoemaker's son.

When he reached the sidewalk of the great city, he went more slowly, for he tried to take his hat off to every woman he met, and to smile at every child, and to assist all those he thought overloaded with bundles. When a woman happened to look at him, he dropped his gaze to the sidewalk, and when a child, he stopped as though ready to enter into conversation. Once he patted a dog, and the dog turned and followed him; and at another time he picked up a dirty, barefooted child that was crying in a gutter, and the child turned and followed him also.

But at length he reached the place indicated by the letter, and was received with marked consideration by the lawyer, who rose as he entered.

"I am glad you came so promptly," the lawyer said deferentially. "I suppose you understand what a large estate it is."

"Two hun'd' t'ousan', me t'ink letter say."

"Yes, two-hundred-thousand" dwelling fondly on each word. "Here, suppose you take this chair while I explain the matter in detail."

But sat down diffidently, placing his hat upon the floor and his "feetle" across his knees; then, as the lawyer talked, his thoughts went straying out into the golden future, to the wonderful knowledge that was coming to him, and to little Pierre learning to play the feetle in the right way. Now and then a sentence of the lawyer drifted into his reverie, and he only he sprang to his feet with his eyes blazing.

"What dat you say? Tell me 'g'in, quick!" he demanded.

"About the flaw in the will?" the lawyer asked blandly. "Yes, that is what gives you the money. Lucky flaw, I say."

"Dat mean ol' man Tatro like money go to he cousin Marie, only he make she do will. Me get him day way, hey?"

"That's about it," drily.

"Then you t'ink me t'ink surprised."

"Oh, come now," he urged hastily. "It's all right. The law says the money is yours. Everything is straight and above board."

But reached down and picked up his hat, which he placed squarely on his head. "He tuck de feetle under his arm."

"Who money 'long to?" he demanded, so sharply that the lawyer moved back and placed a chair in front of him, "de law or ol' man Tatro? De law say give him to me, ol' man Tatro say give him to Marie—hub!" and without stopping to parley further words, Bat strode contemptuously into the street.

The sun was behind the hills, and in place of its golden beckoning there was only dull, universal shadow, pierced here and there by the electric lights of the city. In the woods the darkness was without break, but the trapper walked quietly into them and disappeared. Over yonder by the river was his cabin, with the dugout on the bank, and his traps and the fishing poles, and the battered, muzzle-loading rifle. He would go back to them.

When she was near the cave she began her sweetest song, and as she flew nearer she sang more sweetly and softly until she alighted on a tree right over the rock where lay the dragon and the sleeping Stephen.

When he heard the sweet tones of the nightingale the dragon raised its head and looked around, but seeing only a bird perched over his head, he had no fear. Softly, sweetly, the nightingale trilled and sang its soothing song until at last the dragon began to nod its head, and after a while it dropped to the ground fast asleep.

The poor nightingale was so worn out with singing so long that it hardly had strength to fly down to where Stephen was sleeping.

Very carefully it did with only a soft waving of its wings and then its bill plucked from the ring on Stephen's hand the red stone and off it flew with the stone held tightly in its bill.

Only once did it stop, and that was to sip a drop of dew from a rose bush where it alighted to rest, and then on it went to the palace where Nardo was sleeping and flew through the window of his bedroom.

NARDO AND THE PRINCESS

Part II.

THE fairy listened to the Princess and told her not to worry; that she was sure there was something wrong; that Nardo still loved her and at midnight the next night she would return, and away she flitted in the moonlight, leaving the Princess happier than she had been for many a day.

It took the fairy but a short time to unravel the mystery, and the next night when the Princess went to her window she found the little fairy waiting for her, perched on the sill.

"Do not grieve, my Princess," said the fairy. "Nardo still loves you; it is all the work of his wicked brother, Stephen, who loved you, too."

Then she told the Princess the story of the ring and how Stephen had got

law or ol' man Tatro? De law say give him to me, ol' man Tatro say give him to Marie—hub!" and without stopping to parley further words, Bat strode contemptuously into the street.

The sun was behind the hills, and in place of its golden beckoning there was only dull, universal shadow, pierced here and there by the electric lights of the city. In the woods the darkness was without break, but the trapper walked quietly into them and disappeared. Over yonder by the river was his cabin, with the dugout on the bank, and his traps and the fishing poles, and the battered, muzzle-loading rifle. He would go back to them.

When she was near the cave she began her sweetest song, and as she flew nearer she sang more sweetly and softly until she alighted on a tree right over the rock where lay the dragon and the sleeping Stephen.

The eyes of the Dragon were wide open watching on all sides for anyone who might dare attempt to rescue Stephen.

When he heard the sweet tones of the nightingale the dragon raised its head and looked around, but seeing only a bird perched over his head, he had no fear. Softly, sweetly, the nightingale trilled and sang its soothing song until at last the dragon began to nod its head, and after a while it dropped to the ground fast asleep.

The poor nightingale was so worn out with singing so long that it hardly had strength to fly down to where Stephen was sleeping.

Very carefully it did with only a soft waving of its wings and then its bill plucked from the ring on Stephen's hand the red stone and off it flew with the stone held tightly in its bill.

Only once did it stop, and that was to sip a drop of dew from a rose bush where it alighted to rest, and then on it went to the palace where Nardo was sleeping and flew through the window of his bedroom.

Nardo's hand was open on the pillow beside his face, and into his hand the nightingale placed the red stone and flew away to the Princess.

that time I must fly to my Queen. "Farewell, my kind Princess, may you be happy with your Prince, and if you are as good and kind as a Queen as you were when a Princess I shall never regret my night's work."

The Princess thanked her again and again, but the fairy was away before she had finished, and just then the sun peeped through the trees and at the same time the sound of horses' hoofs was heard coming along the road.

The Princess's cheeks grew red, for she knew it was her lover, and when she reached the palace door there he was just riding up to the door.

When the spell was broken for Nardo it released poor Stephen from the power of the witch, the sea rolled in and the wind shrieked among the trees and the next thing Stephen knew he was running through the forest toward his home.

Of course, he was too much ashamed to tell of all that had happened to him, and said he had been hunting in the forest and lost his way, and Nardo and the Princess kept his secret and did not let him know they were aware of his treachery, and as he grew to be a better man as the years went by they were glad they did.
